VOL. XVII. NO. 20. TOLEDO, OHIO, THURSDAY MAY 19, 1892. LAST EDITION. TWO CENTS.

IN THE BEE TO-DAY

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Toledo, O., May 19, 1892.

The storm has moved slowly to the eastward during the past 24 hours, and is central over the southern extremity of Lake Michigan. It has caused gales on all the lakes from the southeast, and will continue to cause them to-day from the southwest to northwest on Lakes Michigan and Superior. It is raining over the entire lake region and Ohio valley and the rain area will reach to the Atlantic coast. The heaviest falls reported during the past 24 hours are, Toledo, 1.09 inches; Detroit, 1:30; Milwaukee, .78; Green Bay, .64; St. Paul, 1.38; Duluth, 1.25; La Crosse, 1.30; Chicago, .62, and Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Louisville, .50.

The weather in the west and northwest is generally fair.

The temperature has fallen from 5 to 20 degrees over the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and western Wisconsin. In all other sections it has remained nearly stationary.

Storm signals are displayed on all the lakes for southeast gales.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity—Showers, followed by clearing weather during night, falling temperature, brisk to high winds becoming northwest.

E. A. HANNEER, Observer.

Ohio—Rain, with severe local storms this afternoon; southeast gales, becoming west; clearing to-night or Friday morning.

Indiana and Illinois—Clearing northwest gales; slightly cooler to-night, with light frosts in exposed localities.

Michigan—Rain; east gales; cooler in western upper Michigan and extreme southwestern lower Michigan; severe local storms in lower Michigan this afternoon.

Wisconsin—Showers, followed by fair to-night or Friday morning; northwest gales; frosts to-night.

TERRIBLE FLOODS

The Whole Country Seems to be Deluged.

Many Lives Reported Lost in the West.

Sioux City, Iowa, Is Under Water.

Omaha Suffers Very Serious Damage.

Dead Bodies Floating Down the River With the Drift—Many Heroic Deeds by the Brave Men and Women.

Omaha, Neb., May 19.—A special to the Bee from Sioux City, Ia., says: A great flood disaster has overtaken Sioux City. Yesterady morning a great wave came down the Floyd river, which flows through the center of the city, and which had already swollen bank full.

The wave came a few minutes after 7 o'clock. Warning had been given out a short time before to the inhabitants of the low lands, but only a few of them had been notified.

The first intimation was a volume of water spreading over the banks to a depth of three feet and throwing a mist of foam before it. In a few minutes the water had risen above the first floors, and several thousand people fled in terror to the higher ground.

The water rose four feet in one hour and a half and from 9 o'clock continued to rise steadily, but not so rapidly. Probably 1,000 inhabitants of the city live on the low ground which is overflowed. So rapid was the rise of the tide that great numbers were unable to escape and the work of rescue engages every energy of the people.

At 12 o'clock eleven persons were reported drowned, and there must be many others. The only names obtained so far are: Nellie West, a child, and Mrs. Louise Horner and two children.

At 10 o'clock the fire alarm was sounded to call out more workers. All the boats from the boat houses on the Sioux river have been brought in and are being used to save life and property.

The Missouri river is very high, and when the flood in the Floyd river struck it the water dammed up and rushed over the adjacent low grounds. The stock yards and packing houses, situated at the confluence of the two rivers, were instantly inundated. About 2,000 head of live stock were drowned, and numbers of dead stock have been floating down the Floyd river. The whole railroad yards and switching track district is under water, and there has been immense damage to the round houses and railroad property.

The round houses of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha are damaged to the extent of $40,000. That road, the Illinois Central and Sioux City & Northern enter the city by the Floyd valley, and all are stopped. Not a train has left Sioux City to-day.

At 1 o'clock p. m. yesterday the water had reached to Jennings street on Fourth street. The Hotel Fowle and the Boston Investment company's buildings are also surrounded with water. The union depot was cut off at 9 o'clock.

It is estimated that 8,000 people have been driven from their homes. All business is suspended. The chamber of commerce organized this morning for relief work. Before noon the ladies had several soup and lunch houses opend for the flood sufferers. It is impossible yet to estimate the loss of property, but it will be large.

There is only one telegraph wire working out of the city, and that runs to Omaha. This makes it impossible to adequately tell the story of the flood. A special from Sioux City, Ia., to the Bee, says: The water was slowly receding at midnight. A citizens' meeting at the court house organized to provide several thousand people with shelter. The damage to property will reach a million and a half. The loss of the Sioux City & Northern railroad will exceed $200,000. Miles of cedar block paving has been washed out.

At noon 375 people had registered for relief and the applications had then only just begun. The scenes along the verge of the waters were pitiful. The loss of life will be very large, although it is difficult in this confusion to learn names.

At Springdale, a suburb, a woman has stood in the second story of a house 900 yards out, holding her baby out of the waters and was still there at 9 o'clock last night. Two men have been drowned in attempting to rescue her.

The difficulty has been the gales of wind which has been blowing great guns all day. Houses are being broken up all the time. There is neither gas light or electric light, both plants being under water.

At the manufacturing suburb of Leeds, directly in the Floyd valley, nine persons are known to be drowned. Four were drowned at Springdale, just below Leeds. Observers on the high bridge counted 15 bodies that swept under it. One man attempted to wade out, carrying two children, but was struck by a floating timber and so hurt that he dropped one.

Matt Roe, an old sailor, saved the lives of 28 persons.

Mrs. F. E. West was swept away and separated from her little 5-year old girl, who was drowned.

A woman who managed to wade to a box car was there seized with labor pains and gave birth to a child and two hours later was rescued. A woman named Hinton and three children were drowned in their own house. Two Swedish families were swept away and drowned before rescuers could reach them.

The gas works and electric light plant are under water and the city was in darkness last night. Citizens have thrown open their houses and barns and the churches will be opened if necessary to shelter the homeless multitude.

The great flood is a thing of the past except in the mourning homes where death entered. The water has receded 30 inches and the work of repairing damages is already under way.

The Chicago, Milwauke & St. Paul road got out the only train which left the city yesterday; went to Dakota.

The Illinois Central has several miles of washouts.

The sioux City & Northern is also badly hurt.

All other roads entering here suffer more or less. The number of lives lost cannot yet be stated.

In Omaha.

Omaha, May 19.—The damage in Omaha and its immediate vicinity from the flood is terrible. The wind also created havoc, and scarcely any property in the city has escaped some damage.

Few children could attend school yesterday owing to the flooded streets. A tenement house at Ninth and Harney streets was undermined by the rain and a few minutes after midnight the inmates rushed to the street. The structure did not fall, but leaned so far to the north that the doors could not be closed.

At the county hospital none of the employes closed their eyes last night, as they expected the building to collapse at any time before morning. The east wall of the north wing was bowed, but was still standing. The break in the corridor ceilings of the south wing had opened but the iron rods recently placed through the buildings prevented it from falling apart.

The damage to the Union Pacific bridges was not half so bad as at first supposed. The trains held in Omaha and at the transfer east and west bound, were sent each way about 10 o'clock yesterday and all passed in safety.

The trains all moved last night. The St. Paul & Omaha branch roads have been running uninterruptedly. The waves of the Big Papillion are dashing against the road-bed of the Missouri Pacific just north of Seymour park and trains are running slowly over that part of the road. The river stands at 11.5 feet above low water mark, a rise of six-tenths of a foot. The high wind will probably cause the river to begin falling at once. The river at Sioux City had risen six-tenths of a foot. The high wind will probably cause the river to begin falling at once. The river at Sioux City had risen eight-tenths of a foot in 24 hours before the cloudburst over the Floyd river.

River men predict grave disaster when the flood from Sioux City arrives. The threatened break at East Omaha they regard as sure and the inhabitants are moving out by the hundreds. The big rise is not expected before morning.

At Fort Dodge.

Fort Dodge, Ia., May 19.—The worst deluge for many years has visited this section. Six inches have fallen in 12 hours.

The Des Moines river rose seven feet during Wednesday night. The river is now at a dangerous height and is still slowly rising. Duck island is submerged and Soldier creek bottom covered with water.

The big Heath oat meal mill is again in danger. A dike has been built, which keeps the back water away, but a rise of two or three feet will bring the main stream to the mill.

All the railroads are suffering. On the Illinois Central, from here to Sioux City, not a train moved yesterday west of Marcus. Supt. Quimby says 3,000 feet of track is washed away. Between Manson and Pomeroy there is a 300-foot washout. Tara bridge, over the Lizard river, threatens to go out every moment.

The track cannot be in condition for at least two days. The town of Cherokee is again flooded but no serious damage is reported. On the Minneapolis & St. Louis roads washouts are reported at Angus and Kalo. No trains ran to or from Des Moines yesterday. The Mason City & Fort Dodge road has some bad washouts on the Lehigh branch.

Vacating the Botton Lands.

Council Bluffs, Ia., May 19.—The people at all points along the river below Sioux City were warned by wire yesterday to vacate the bottoms and the warning was heeded in nearly every case.

When it was learned that the cloudburst occurred in the Floyd river instead of the Missouri, the excitement subsided and many who had left their homes returned. Nearly all the lower part of the city is under water, ranging from six inches to three feet. This is caused by the overflow of the Mosquito and Indian creeks, both of which run through Council Bluffs. Heavy damage has been done.

Humboldt, Iowa.

Humboldt, Ia., May 19.—An immense amount of water has fallen here and the Des Moines river is the highest since 1881. In town sidewalks are afloat, roads submerged, and all means of travel destroyed. The Minneapolis & St. Louis road can run no trains south of Fort Dodge on account of the washouts. The wind continues strong and clouds plentiful. Farmers are much discouraged.

Ottumwa, Iowa.

Ottumwa, Ia., May 19.—The severe storm which has swept over here caused the river to reach the highest point since the flood of 1851 filling the cellars to a depth of five feet and breaking the dyke. A good portion of the south side and all that portion of the north side between the river and the railroad tracks is under water, and the south approach of the bridge is slowly washing away.

The railroads have suffered severely and traffic is practically suspended. Eddyville, Fort Dodge and other points report a big rise. The electric light and water supply plants are inundated rendering the machinery inoperative and last night the city was in darkness.

Keokuk, Iowa.

Keokuk, Ia., May 19.—Egyptian levee is still firm, but may break if the river continues to rise. People living in districts protected by levees can do nothing to prevent them being cut into by currents and are preparing for the worst.

The Des Moines river is reported rising its entire length, the rise ranging from half a foot at Alexandria to three feet at points above. The Mississippi is also rising.

Boone, Iowa.

Boone, Ia., May 19.—A heavy rain has fallen here. The Des Moines river is higher than it has been for many years and all the bridges are damaged. Many small bridges were swept away and water is standing in all the lower farm lands. It is still raining hard and crops are seriously threatened.

The Arkansas.

Clarksville, May 19.—The Arkansas river flood has been accompanied with considerable loss of life. Two Germans were drowned in Logan county, opposite here yesterday morning, and three children were drowned above here yesterday morning.

The Auglaize.

Wapakoneta, May 19.—(Special)—Never in its history has the Auglaize river been so high. Cellars are flooded and the families along its banks are getting ready to vacate their homes.

The crop of oats and corn which are planted, are covered in some places from one to twelve inches with water. They will be a complete loss.

It's money thrown away when a medicine doesn't help you. It's your risk and your loss. But that's the way you have to buy every medicine for woman's ailments, except Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

With that, there's no risk—it's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in all the chronic weaknesses, painful disorders and functional disturbances that afflict womankind, you have your money back. But you won't ask it—you'll be cured.

Give it time, if your case is obstinate. The troubles that come slowly, have to go slowly. The surest and speediest remedy is the "Favorite Prescription." It builds up and invigorates the system, regulates and promotes the proper functions, and restores health and strength.

For everything that's known as a "female complaint," it's a positive specific.

If you're an overworked or suffering woman, it's a medicine that's made especially to help you—but you pay only for the help that you get.

On these terms it's the cheapest sold.

TO REFORM ALL EVILS.

The People's Party of Illinois in Session.

A Patch-Work Platform Made to Catch the Votes of Gullible People.

Danville, Ill., May 19.—The state convention of the people's party opened here to-day. It will elect delegates to the Omaha convention of July 2, and will indorse the St. Louis platform. Resolutions will be submitted urging that the state should, under the right of eminent domain, secure possession of the coal mines of the state and operate them so that consumers may secure coal at cost; demanding that the state treasurer shall turn into the state treasury all interest received on public moneys; condemning the interference by the police with liberty of speech and freedom of public meeting in Chicago; and favoring the prohibition of the leasing of convicts in the state penitentiary.

The state ticket which seems to commend itself to a majority of the delegates is as follows: For governor, Representative H. E. Taubeneck; lieutenant-governor, Hon. Jesse Harper, better known as one of the leaders of the greenback party; attorney general, Jesse Cox; treasurer, A. J. Streeter, the people's party nominee for president four years ago; state auditor, C. G. Dixon; congressman-at-large, S. F. Norton, until recently editor of the Farmers' Voice of this city.

There is some objection to this ticket, however, on the ground that Cox, Dixon and Norton all come from Chicago, and it is held that the candidates should be pretty well distributed over the state.

BURGLARS AT DELTA.

Four Business Places Successfully Raided.

Delta, O., May 19.—(Special)—The business places of L. H. Taylor, J. A. Peas and C. L. Hatfield, meat markets, and C. D. Zellner's restaurant were broken into last night and the money drawers rifled of their contents, securing in all about $17.50.

It is supposed to be the work of a gang of tramps.

This happening immediately after the "Odel watch robbery," has created considerable excitement, and the scoundrels, if caught, will suffer the full extent of the law.

WILL FIGHT IT OUT.

Toledo to Play Ball on Sunday.

Such is Believed to be the Intention of the People Behind the Local Club.

The Sunday ball question was the general topic of discussion on the streets today, and it is generally believed that the people behind the Toledo club will laugh at the Law and Order society and the police board order, and play Sunday games. The sentiment of the base ball enthusiasts is that the storm of indignation against the law breaking will soon blow over, and that the games will then be allowed to proceed in peace.

SENATOR HILL.

He Will Deliver an Address at Charlotte.

Washington, May 19.—Senator Hill, of New York, accompanied by Senators Gray and Ransom, Gen. Austin Lathrop, state prison commissioner of New York; Representative Alexander, of North Carolina, Editor McDonald, of the Lynchburg Virginian, and a representative of the United Press, left Washington at 11:15 this morning in the Pullman palace car Neva over the Richmond & Danville road for Charlotte, where he will deliver an address at the celebration of the Mecklenburg centennial to-morrow.

DELPHOS NOTES.

Delphos, O., May 19.—(Special)—Henry Rodgers, while seining in the Miami & Erie canal was suddenly taken with cramps and drowned in sight of several companions. He was 19 years old and the son of a wealthy farmer.

An attempt was made to burglarize the house of Mrs. Osburn, a widow. Her son heard the burglar and frightened him away. Mrs. Osborn had recently sold some property for $5,000 and had the money in the house.

ROBBED HIS EMPLOYER.

Wooster, May 19.—While John S. Caskey, one of our leading grocers, was down to his farm John McConnell, one of his clerks, took advantage of his absence and opened the safe and took quite a large sum (Caskey refuses to say how much) and left for parts unknown. His wife and four children are left in poor circumstances.

FIFTH DEMOCRATS.

Bryan, May 19.—(Special)—At a meeting of the committee held last night at Paulding, Bryan was chosen as the place for holding the Fifth congressional district democratic convention.

June 1 was the date set.

Jno. W. Wynn, of Defiance, was chosen temporary chairman and L. L. Orwig, of Napoleon, secretary.

STAND BY THE SENATE.

Quebec, May 19.—The provincial parliament voted last night on the proposition to abolish its upper chamber, the legislative council which answers to a senate. The government opposed the measure, while the opposition supported it. The grounds for the abolition were economy and alleged uselessness of the chamber. The proposal was negatived by a vote of 44 to 9.

STRUCK OFF CHEBOYGAN

The Butcher Boy Runs Over the City of Chicago.

A Bad Smash-up Reported in the Straits.

All the News of the Inland Lakes Gathered for the Benefit of Bee Readers.

Chicago, May 19.—(Special Marine Service)—The large schooner City of Chicago arrived in port here yesterday, bearing all the evidences of a serious collision outside. The accident occurred off Cheboygan night before last. She was struck squarely on the port side between two frames, and cut down to the water edge. The damage is very severe. Had she been light she would have been cut in two and sunk, but her cargo of lumber saved her.

The colliding craft was the schooner Butcher Boy, bound down the lake, with the wind behind her. The City of Chicago was on the wind. The Butcher Boy is a straight stemmed vessel and, striking the Chicago stem on, escaped herself with little injury so far as is known. The City of Chicago went into dry dock at Miller Bros.' shipyard yesterday afternoon.

The Eveline Bates.

Capt. G. Clark left Chicago last night with an expedition to rescue the schooner Eveline Bates, leaking and in trouble at Sturgeon Bay. Barker, of Chicago, is the owner of the cedar cargo on board. The vessel is owned by Neil Gallagher, of Beaver Island.

Capt. Cochrane's steamer R. J. Gordon opened the excursion season yesterday with a brass band, making several trips on the lake.

During the winter the steamer City of Charlevoix had her engines renewed, and from an eight-mile boat is now a fifteen-mile boat, one of the fastest of the many fast steamers on Lake Michigan.

The Chicago shipping office in the Lumber Exchange building is open for business. For the present Mr. Biemel is alone in charge. It is understood that he ships firemen, engineers and deckhands as well as sailors. The shipping office is under the control of the central committee of the Lake Carriers' association at Cleveland. Capt. Rumsey, of Cleveland, has general supervision over the shipping masters all over the lakes.

It turns out that the steamer which the Isabella Boyce collided with in St. Clair river was the Atlantic, of Grummond's line. She was damaged to the extent of $2,000. The crew of the Atlantic claim that the Boyce was to blame for the collision.

Capt. T. McCrone has been appointed shipping master at Fairport.

The steamer which struck the pier of the Illinois Central bridge at the mouth of the harbor was the Chicago of the Western Transit line. The accident occurred late at night. The pier is damaged to some extent, but the steamer is unhurt as far as known.

The lake adjusters of insurance losses on the great lakes met at Detroit Tuesday and formed a general association. Its purpose is to secure uniformity in practice.

The crew of the gravel-scow Alma had a very disagreeable time of it at Milwaukee Tuesday night. The Alma had loaded gravel north of the city, and was returning to Milwaukee when she encountered a stiff southeaster. All night long the crew attempted to put back into Milwaukee, but yesterday morning the craft capsized and the crew scrambled to the up-turned bottom and hung on until rescued by the tug Troy. The scow is a total loss.

Up—Farwell consort, Conemaugh, 1:40 a. m.; Oceanica, 5:30; Pabst, 6; Chemung, Nahant, 8; Alleghany consort, 9:30. Wind east; heavy; raining.

Through the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, May 19.—Up—Mont Blanc, 9 last night; Potniac, 7 a. m.; Fayette, Brown, Maruba, 8; Marina, Wawatam, 8:30; Harper, 9.

Down—Gordon Campbell, 9 last night, Newaygo, Checotah, 11; John Craig, Verona, Hayes, 1; Tampa, 3; Palmer, 4; Majestic, 6; Hope, 9; Caledonic, America, 10. Wind southeast; brisk rain.

Duluth.

Duluth, Minn., May 19.—Wheat charters dull, nominally 3 1-4 cents to Buffalo. Most vessels are clearing to load ore at Two Harbors.

A heavy rain has fallen here for 24 hours, and a high northwest gale is now blowing.

The launching of whaleback Samuel Mather has been postponed.

Cleveland.

Cleveland, May 19.—The steamer Andasca, the new monitor or "straightback" of the Lake Superior Iron company, brought here from Escanaba to-day 2,300 gross tons of ore on a draft of 15 feet, or 150 tons more than the Wawataw on the same draft. The Wawataw is of same dimensions and owned by the same company but is of the ordinary type.

Chicago.

Chicago, May 19.—A severe east gale is reported to-day over most of the lakes. The greatest severity seems to be on upper Lake Huron.

Buffalo.

Buffalo, May 19.—Coal shippers are today taking nearly all boats offered at unchanged rates. Charters—Waverly, Milwaukee, 50c. Hecla, Rugee, Chicago, 50c. Benson, Toledo, 25c.

Ore Rates.

Cleveland, May 19.—Although there are no signs of lower lake freights on ore the situation is a trifle easier than it has been for three weeks past, to the extent that shippers are getting more tonnage at prevailing rates.

Escanaba tonnage to load in a week to ten days hence is being taken, however, at present rate of 75 cents, with Duluth grain shippers offering but three cents.

From Ashland ore is getting the preference at $1.20.

Working Again.

Chicago, May 19.—The steam fog signal at South Manitou, Lake Michigan, is again in operation.

Boats in Collision.

Milwaukee, May 19.—The Lehigh Valley liner Cayuga reports having been in collision with an unknown steamer on Lake Erie. It was this boat, probably, that struck the steamer Fline and Pere Marquette.

Chicago Rates.

Chicago, May 19.—Vesselmen had hard work to secure cargoes to-day, owing to the light shipping demand for grain.

Rates held unchanged.

Charters to Buffalo, Susan Peck, Hudson, corn; Seneca, wheat and corn; Albany, corn and oats. To Midland, J. Burt, oats, 1 1-4.

TO FIGHT THE STANDARD.

The Manhattan Oil Company Is Loaded for Bear.

St. Marys, O., May 19.—(Special)—It is rumored that the Manhattan Oil company will buy out most of the local oil companies, and lay a pipe line here to buck against the Standard.

Efforts will be made to secure control of the entire field, in which case they would be ready to fight.

Should they be successful they propose paying 2 1-2 cents more per barrel than the Standard.

THE SILVER CONFERENCE

It Will be Held Within Six Weeks.

The Place and Delegates Have not Yet Been Fully Decided.

New York, May 19.—A Washington special to the Post says: The International silver conference bids fair from present appearances to be held within the next 60 days, though the place has not yet been decided upon.

One element of delay has been the fact that the correspondence has been conducted by mail instead of by cable. It is likely that the place chosen will be the capital of one of the lesser powers, so that no great political significance can be given to the meeting locally.

The names of the American representatives at the conference are not yet made known, as it is doubtful whether the president has his list yet made out.

Several suggestions are canvassed, however, in a manner which would indicate that the president has them under advisement. So far the signs point most directly to Henry W. Cannon, of New York, as a representative republican bi-metallist and general financial expert; Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, as a republican friendly to the silver mining interest and a student of the money question, and Gen. Francis A. Walker, of Massachusetts, as a bimetallist representative of the opposition party.

The fourth member may be chosen from the leading western democrats who have made a specialty of this subject. A movement is on foot among leading senators and representatives of both political parties to procure the nomination, as the fifth member, Director Leech, of the mint bureau, and by common consent the coinage expert of the United States treasury.

WON BY CLEVELAND.

A Great Victory Scored in Georgia.

Mr. Hill and His Little Schemes Knocked Into a Cocked Hat.

Atlanta, Ga., May 19.—The Cleveland and anti-Cleveland forces were astir at an early hour yesterday; the anti-Cleveland delegates selected James M. Smith, of Oglethorp; J. M. Dupree, of Bibb; Howell, of Fulton, and Patrick Walsh, of Richmond, as their candidates for delegates at large to the national convention.

The Cleveland candidates were Dupont Guerry, of Bibb; A. P. Richardson, of Fulton; F. G. Dubignon, of Chatham and James M. Smith, of Oglethorp. It will be observed Mr. Smith was up on both slates.

Both sides claim him, while Mr. Smith himself keeps discreetly silent.

Chairman Atkinson, of the state central committee, called the convention to order promptly at 12 o'clock and urged the delegates to be harmonious, conciliatory and conservative in the action of the day.

The test fight of the day took place over the election of the temporary chairman of the convention, R. D. Reuder, on behalf of the anti-Cleveland faction, nominated John W. Robertson and Geo. A. Clements on behalf of the Cleveland delegates nominated ex-United States Senator Barrow.

The nomination of each of those men was seconded by a half dozen speeches and it was a long time before a ballot was reached. A half hour was consumed in the roll call, which resulted in a victory for the Cleveland men by the selection of ex-Senator Pope Barrow as temporary chairman by a majority of over 50 votes. Ere the call was completed the anti-Cleveland men courteously moved to make Barrow's election unanimous, and this was done amid great applause.

Chairman Barrow was introduced by his recent competitor, Mr. Robertson, who said he was a better presiding officer than himself, but not a better democrat.

W. A. Harris and Mack Hardin were chosen secretaries by acclamation and the Cleveland forces followed up their victory by moving that the temporary chairman be declared permanent chairman. This was done by acclamation, the anti-Cleveland people not demanding a roll call. Recess was then taken.

At the afternoon session the committee on credentials reported contested delegations from the counties of Clay and Fulton. Both Clay delegations were admitted, each to cast one-half the vote of the county. The Fulton county Cleveland delegation were seated by a vote of 171 to 157.

The convention now proceeded to the chief business before it—the selection of delegates-at-large to the national convention.

The district delegates to the national convention are: First district, G. A. Mercer, Wm. Clifton; second, J. N. Griggs, John Triplet; third, Bascom Myrick, C. C. Duncan; fourth, T. F. Garrard, S. P. Mandersville; fifth, George Hillery, M. A. Candler; sixth, F. D. Dismuke, Richard Johnson; seventh, W. W. Vandiver, T. W. Slover; eighth, Fred Foster, W. B. Burnett; ninth, J. R. Brown, Lewis Davis; tenth, E. W. Bardel, W. O. Mitchell; eleventh, Walter T. McArthur, Thomas W. Lamb.

VIRGINIA DEMOCRATS.

They Hold an Enthusiastic Convention.

Overwhelmingly for Cleveland, but no Instructed Delegation Will be Sent to Chicago.

Richmond, Va., May 19.—The largest democratic convention ever held in Virginia assembled at noon to-day. Over seventeen hundred delegates are in attendance. In addition to delegates-at-large it will name two presidential electors-at-large. Despite the fact that Hill's friends have been actively at work, the convention is overwhelmingly for Cleveland. No instructed delegation, however, will be sent to Chicago, even the friends of the ex-president not being inclined to favor such a course. The more conservative of both sides consider it more prudent to send untrammelled representatives.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Van Wert, O., May 19.—Mrs. John Murphy, a society lady of this city, slipped and fell yesterday, dislocating her shoulder and otherwise sustaining injuries will probably prove fatal.

REPORTED SUICIDE.

Norwalk, O., May 19.—(Special)—It is reported in this city that Miss Zoe Fitch, daughter of Charles Fitch, conductor on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, who is away at school in a Michigan convent, had attempted suicide by taking "rough on rats."

RACING THROUGH MUD

Bike Boys Having a Tough Time.

They are Reported Five Hours Late at Bryan.

Boats Would Have Made Better Time—Believed Lost Time Can be Made Up in the East.

Perrysburg, May 19.—(Special)—The Relay cyclers, due here at noon, are six hours late. Manager Tom Roe, who is here from Chicago awaiting them, says that he does not expect them before 6 o'clock p. m.

The roads between here and Napoleon are terrible, the mud being a foot deep. The roads between here and Fremont are even worse. A number of Toledo wheelmen are here, as well as a number of Chicago men, including D. D. Bode and F. V. Wheeler.

T. F. Roe says that they are six hours late here, but can make it up between here and New York.

South Bend.

South Bend, Ind., May 19.—The relay bicyclists left here at 9:44 o'clock p. m. yesterday, 14 minutes ahead of time. The riding in this vicinity is very heavy, caused by heavy rain.

Laporte.

Laporte, Ind., May 19.—The relay riders arrived and left Laporte at 6:25 p. m., 25 minutes ahead of schedule time.

New Carlisle.

New Carlisle, Ind., May 19.—Davis, the bicyclist, came in at 7:45 p. m. He broke his chain three and one-half miles west of New Carlisle, and carried his machine into town. Ballard arrived ten minutes later. Merrile and Nicolett left here at 7:45 p. m.

Butler.

Butler, Ind., May 19.—The bicycle rider arrived at Butler at 8:45 a. m. and departed at 8:46. Howard Tuttle went from here to Bryan, O.

Five Hours Late at Bryan.

Bryan, O., May 19.—(Special)—F. Howard Tuttle arrived at 11:10 a. m., in the government message carrying experiment. An accident in breaking his wheel just above here caused some delay, necessitating about three miles run on foot.

He was relieved by Fred Ballmyer, of Wauseon, at 11:11 a. m.

CHANGED THE ROUTE.

To Travel on the Roadbed of the Lake Shore to Holland.

Wauseon, O., May 19.—Perrin, of Toledo, Root and Young, of Chicago, floundered through the mud from Napoleon this forenoon.

The route scheduled from Bryan to Perrysburg catches 46 miles of impassable clay and would have delayed a day at least.

The railroad is being used and will be to Holland and then to Perrysburg.

General Howard Talks.

New York, May 19.—Speaking of the relay bicycle race to be begun from Chicago to New York to-day, conveying a message from Gen. Miles to Gen. Howard, the latter said: "I am under the impression that Gen. Miles really believes that a bicycle courier service will ultimately prove itself superior to that in which horses are utilized. I have always thought that the machines would be valueless in case that bad roads were met with. Many times couriers had to make their horses swim streams, and a bicycle can't swim, can it? I am not saying this to oppose the scheme, but simply to cite obstacles that must be met. I shall be pleased to watch the progress and issue of the trial, and shall withhhold further comments until it has proved either a success or a failure."

NO HORSES ALLOWED.

Boys Must Pushe Their Bikes if They Can't Ride.

Wauseon, May 19.—(Special)—"A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse," sighed Fred Bollinger, as he estimated the number of days required to wade through a foot of mud 16 miles from Bryan to Ridgeville.

"Amen," answered Munger, of Detroit, and the far-away look in Spooney's eyes, of Chicago, told too well that that "crack" rider's thoughts were on the glass-like pavements of Chicago, so much unlike the mud river road from Napoleon to Perrysburg.

A telegram to Rowe explaining the situation, not accompanied, however, by a sample of the mud, as perhaps should have been, was answered ordering the "bikes" pushed, mud baths to the contrary, and no horses allowed.

Bollinger, however, will ride a "Hartford Pneumatic" between or next to the L. S. & M. S. railroad, walk from Bryan to Wauseon, and from thence on the track.

Munger and Spooner will bobbity-bobbob to Swanton or Holland and then across the sand to Perrysburg. But, say, they will be more than the two hours schedule time from Bryan to Perrysburg. "Cigars on that and no takers."

GAVE UP THE CHARTER

Color Line in the Grand Army.

Two White Posts in the South Start the Warfare Against Commander Palmer.

New Orleans, May 19.—The department of Louisiana and Mississippi, Grand Army of the Republic, met last night and at a late hour passed resolutions surrendering the division charter, because Commander-in-Chief Palmer suspended the division commander for not recognizing the colored posts. The resolutions also advise the eight white posts in the division to follow the example of the encampment.

SAVED STATE EXPENSE.

Two Findlay Men Pled Guilty and are Sentenced.

Findlay, O., May 19.—(Special)—J. F. Hummell, the absconding agent of the United States Express company, at Mt. Cory, plead guilty in common pleas court yesterday to the charge of embezzling.

Judge Johnson let him down easy with one year int eh penitentiary.

Robert Floyd, a colored barber plead guilty to the charge of grand lacreny. He stole a diamond pin from a customer while shaving him. He was given one year.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Columbus, O., May 19.—The following articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the secretary of state yesterday: The Cleveland School of Elecution and Oratory, Cleveland; the Elk lodge, No. 198; Knights of Pythias of Ohio, McArthur; the Cleveland, Canton & Southern Railroad company, Canton, increase of capital stock from $1,602,000 to $16,602,000. The state's fee in the C., C. & S. increase of stock was $15,000.

THIS IS PLAIN.

It Simply Explains the Position of Drs. Copeland and Bell.

Whom the Shoe Fits Let Him Put It On—Now Let the Public Judge By Results of the Merit of Our Work.

Drs. Copeland and Bell say what they have to say to the public in a direct and straightforward manner. They do not ask the protection of the newspapers, or seek to secure silence by threats of libel. They are themselves responsible for their printed statements, and what they say in print they are prepared to prove. Let there be no mistake about this. Their names, their work and their record are before the public, and when assailed they have a right to protect themselves by all adequate and legitimate means. They have this to say to the newspapers in which they advertise, and the public generally: When attacks or criticisms are to be made, print them. All they ask is an opportunity to answer what is said just as frankly and just as truthfully as they are able. They don't seek to suppress attacks or criticisms of any kind. The only thing they demand is that such attacks shall be signed by responsible parties, and shall contain names, facts and places; no indefinite allusions or vague insinuations. This is fair; it is also business. "Whom the shoe fits, let him put it on.

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE.

It is Submitted by Mr. Clouse, of Cygnet, in Behalf of Drs. Copeland and Bell.

No statement from any of the patients of Drs. Copeland and Bell is more remarkable or more forcible than the following, contributed by Mr. F. D. Clouse, of Cygnet, Ohio:

Those who suffer from consumption, or what is generally called consumption, should read this statement, as it indicates what can be done for them by thoroughly skilled specialists who have only the good of the patient at heart.

"I have been affected," said Mr. Clouse, "for six or seven years. I was under the treatment of physicians almost constantly, but the doctors were all at sea in regard to my ailment. Some said I had consumption; some said it was bleeding from the stomach. Dr. T. A. Slocum, of New York City, said that I had consumption and treated me for it. I coughed and raised a great deal. I had pains through the chest and back; I had chills and night sweats. The night sweats were so profuse that frequently I had to have the bed-clothing changed. I lost flesh and strength and began to think that I was going to die, especially since my mother and sister had died with consumption.

"The pains through my chest and back were very severe, and when I coughed it nearly tore me to pieces. My throat was raw and sore because of the continual dropping from the head into my throat, and the coughing. I had dull pains in the back of my head and over my eyes. My appetite was irregular and if I ate any quantity I had great distress afterwards. My sleep was fitful and unrefreshing. Altogether I was completely run down, and was so weak I was obliged to give up my work.

What Has Been Done For Him.

"Since placing myself under the treatment of Drs. Copeland and Bell my cough has disappeared to such an extent that I scarcely notice it. My sore throat has gone, and the dropping from the head which used to irritate it has ceased altogether. I have no headaches, no pains through my chest or back. My appetite is improved and I relish my food, and have no feeling of distress. I sleep well and awake feeling thoroughly refreshed. During the time of treatment I have gained considerable flesh and strength, and feel better than I have at any time in the past ten years. My recovery has been remarkable. I owe all this to Drs. Copeland and Bell, and desire publicly to express my gratitude to them, and to testify to their splendid ability as physicians."

John L. Sullivan Gets Himself Examined to Find Whether or Not He is Well—General News.

New York, May 19.—John L. Sullivan underwent for the first time in his life a thorough physical examination at the hands of Dr. George F. Shrady, one of America's most eminent physicians, in the latter's residence. The result will gratify the champion's thousands of admirers. After looking over the massive frame of the pugilistic champion with a great deal of care and thoroughness, the examination requiring one hour, Dr. Shrady said: "In all my life I have never seen such a magnificent specimen of muscular development, and, indeed, I do not think another such man is living today. You are in perfect health, Mr. Sullivan. Your heart, liver, stomach, lungs, and other organs are all performing their work properly. You are physically sound and, with some of the superfluous flesh in the abdominal region removed, your powers of endurance would be remarkable."

This was said in the presence of the champion himself, Dan Murphy, his faithful friend from Boston, and a reporter in Dr. Shrady's private office. The examination was the result of John L.'s curiosity to know his exact physical condition. Ever since he was matched against Jim Corbett various alleged authorities throughout the country have been predicting his fistic downfall on the ground that he could never be well enough to fight again with that old-time vim which has marked all the struggles in the ring.

Indianapolis has been given the privilege of designating any player it chooses to sign. "Yank" Robinson, the old St. Louis second baseman, was asked for, but he has been signed. The privilege extended to Indianapolis will allow the management to try any player and Henry Boyle will be given an opportunity to show himself in the box.

New York, May 19.—The directors of the National Sporting club to-day fixed Monday, May 30, for the Jackson-Slavin fight. Hall and Choynski will second Jackson, and Mitchell and Jack Slavin will look after Slavin. The price of admission for non-members is $125, which sum has been freely put up. Members are obliged to pay from $10 to $50 for reserved seats. There is not much betting. "Parson" Davies has taken a hall in London, where he proposes to back Hall and Choynski against all comers.

Chicago, Ill., May 19.—Thomas E. Burns, for 18 years a member of the Chicago base ball club, will in a few days sever the ties that have bound him so long to the World's Fair city. He will accept the berth of captain and manager of the Pittsburg team and will also cover his old position, third base. When Chicago visited Pittsburg Burns had a consultation with Capt. Anson, and later Anson and President Temple held a conference. "We do not want to let Burns go," said Anson, "unless we know positively that he is bettering himself. He has played with Chicago 13 years and has been loyal from first to last. Not only that, but he has done everything that was asked of him, and now, next to myself, holds the position of honor on the team. He has practically acted as business manager so far this season. He is capable of being a captain and manager, but has gone as high as he can in the Chicago team. I hate to part with him, but if he can better himself I will not put a stone in his way."

"We have not yet received the contract for approval," said President Hart, "but if the Pittsburg club offers Burns the proper terms and he requests it we will release him in a minute. Money could not buy his release, but if we know that he will better himself we will let him go. He has one of the best base ball heads in the country and will, I am sure, prove a decided acquisition to the Pittsburg team. It is probable that Burns will accompany the Smoky City crew here next Saturday, and play his first game against his old club. Advices from Pittsburg, where Burns now is, are to the effect that the arrangements are practically consummated, and all that remains is for the Chicago club to approve the contract and hand Burns his release."

The Norwegian snow and ice midwinter is surprising to any one accustomed to the English climate. The very snow and ice is what makes Norway and its customs so particularly interesting to a stranger. Of course the cold is very intense, the thermometer never rising above freezing point for months, and often standing at zero; but at the same time the atmosphere is so wonderfully dry that the cold is not nearly so noticeable out of doors, and indoors the houses are kept very warm.

Berlin is to have shortly a crematory erected at the city's cost in the Friedrichsruh cemetery, where bodies of the poor and unknown and of subjects of anatomical investigation at clinics and hospitals will be reduced to ashes. PLAY OR NOT TO PLAY

That's the Question Discussed by the Police Board,

Relative to Sunday Ball in the Future Great.

An Order That All Laws Must Be Enforced—The Preachers' Committee Call—Mayor Emmick Explains—A Lengthy Debate.

The police board has voted to enforce the law, and Sunday base ball in Toledo is at an end.

It was an enthusiastic meeting the police board held last evening, and the corridor of the station were crowded with base ball cranks and others who had some interest at stake.

After the assembly room had been cleared of spectators, Mayor Emmick said: "I see there are a number of ministers present, and I would suggest that we hear what they have to say before proceeding with the regular business. However, I have a word to say first. On last Sunday different ministers in Toledo sorter pitched their batteries at me. Some went so far as to declare the mayor has no right to express an opinion. I want to say here that I have just as much right as any American citizen, to say and do as I please, as long as I am within the bounds of the law, and not imposing upon the rights and privileges of others. One gentleman, Rev. Buckingham, said that I violated the law by attending a game of base ball on Sunday. I want to say that this statement is a direct falsehood. I never attended a game of base ball on Sunday in my life. The attack was unmanly, unfair and a grave injustice to me and my family. The ministers have been too hasty to attack me before they knew what action this board was going to take."

When Mr. Emmick had concluded, Rev. S. D. Hutsinpiller introduced Rev. H. M. Bacon, of the Central Congregational church. Mr. Bacon stated that he was very sorry that any personalities had been introduced into the discussion. They were there in behalf of good order and observance of the law. They were not there officially, but came as private citizens, interested in the maintainance of the law, and believed that they had the hearty cooperation of all law-abiding citizens of Toledo. They were not there to prevent people from doing anything on the first day of the week, other than a plain observance of the law. The case in question is a plain violation of the law. If the board does its duty, and enforces the law, their action would receive the hearty approval of a majority of the people of the city.

Mr. Hutsinpiller said that if the affair on hand was in any sense a debate he wanted to see fair play. It was no more than just to hear from the other side, and he would like to hear from Mr. Gunnels.

Mr. Gunnels said: "Several months ago base ball was agitated in Toledo. A team, it seems, was wanted badly in this city. The papers were full of the question every day, but nothing was ever said about prohibiting Sunday games. I live in Toledo and own property here. Parties came to me and urged that I take hold of a team. I went into it—not as a gambler or law breaker, but as a business man, and invested $7,000 in cash in the enterprise. If the board says close down on Sunday that settles it. I have invested my money, and if I lose, I am not the man to cry about it. I have the utmost respect for the ministers, and the only thing I feel bad about is that they should have taken this action before the club was organized. Had I known of this before, I assure you, I should never have put a dollar in the club. I have received an offer from a Chicago party, by which he proposes to establish a park outside of the city limits, and give me the use of the grounds free for the privilege of selling beer on the grounds. I have refused this offer, because I know what the result will be."

Mr. Waring—"Mr. Gunnels, were you not aware that an ordinance was in existence prohibiting base ball on Sunday when you went into the business?"

Mr. Gunnels—"Yes, sir, and I also knew that there was an ordinance prohibiting the boats running, and other business transactions on Sunday. Why should the authorities discriminate? Why should you pick out base ball at once?"

Mr. Waring—"There is a special ordinance against base ball."

Mr. Gunnells—"Gentlemen, I am not here to beg. All I ask is fair play and justice. It simply means a loss to me, and I am very sorry that I have to be made the example of."

Mr. Potter spoke for a few moments, during which time he declared himself quite forcibly in favor of enforcing the law, hit whom it would. No one was a better friend of the national game than he, and no one liked to see the game any better, or a horse race or athletic sport of any kind, providing it was on the square. He didn't see that there was any room for discussion on the subject at issue. The law was plain, and the board had no alternative but to do all in its power to see that the laws were obeyed. That was what the board had been created for. He didn't believe in making chips of one and meat of another. There were greater evils than base ball. The manner in which Presque Isle had been conducted was a standing disgrace, and everybody knew it. He made a motion that the laws be enforced, which carried unanimously.

Dr. Bacon then introduced Rev. T. S. Buckingham, the gentleman Mayor Emmick alluded to, who desired to say a word.

The gentleman said that he did not intend any disrespect in his manner toward the head of the city. If Mayor Emmick had been correctly reported he had no apologies to make, other wise he would hasten to make all honorable amends possible; but not until he had been thoroughly satisfied of his mistake.

Mr. Emmick stated that the exact language used was to the effect that as a private citizen he had no objection to Sunday base ball, but as an officer his opinion was different.

Mr. Waring said he would like to hear from Mr. Hutsinpiller.

The gentleman responded, and reviewed the case in a manner that there could be no possible mistake or misapprehension. He talked plain and to the point. He was sorry to see any man lose money. (Gunnells—"Excuse me, sir; don't let that worry you a bit.") Violation of the law usually cost men money. A train is wrecked and the railroad company loses vasts sums because somebody violates the law. Incendiaries set fire to a house, which is destroyed by fire. Money is lost because somebody violated the law. The object of law is the protection of people's property and liberty. If the law regulating Sunday violation is unjust and unreasonable, the only way to find it out is to rigidly enforce it, and then the people will repeal it.

Rev. G. E. Hiller spoke briefly on the subject and referred to the position of the laboring people, who, in his opinion and to his knowledge, were opposed to Sunday base ball.

Rev. S. G. Anderson spoke very kindly of the mayor, and of his efforts to procure his election, and he was certain that the board would enforce the law with regard to Sunday base ball.

Rev. E. W. Hunt was next called on. He said he was a lover of base ball and all athletic exercises, and was just as anxious to see a good game of ball as anybody. He witnessed a splendid game in Chicago. He recognized "Parson" Nicholson in the room and said he liked to see him play. Sorry to see Mr. Gunnells lose money, and would be glad to do anything to help make it up. He didn't think it was business for any association to work on Sunday, and didn't think such a venture would be successful in the end.

Rev. Hutsinpiller—"Don't think that I am not in favor of the game played at the proper time. I used to be somewhat of a player myself, and always made a run for our side."

Mr. Gunnells—"That's good; I would like to hire you."

Rev. Hutsinpiller—"I will agree to help you out if you agree to not play on Sunday."

Mr. Hunt said he would like to hear from Parson Nicholson.

Mr. Nicholson was of the opinion that the ministers had attacked the lesser of the two evils; that Sunday ball games prevented general disturbance and much intoxication. Base ball was his profession, and if he wanted to play ball he must do it on Sunday. He worked for his living on Sunday on the diamond just as the minister worked in the pulpit, and couldn't see any difference.

Mr. Gunnells wanted to know what action the board had taken and was informed that the laws would be enforced.

"Then that means all laws, and all violations, and if they are not, I tell you right here that I will play base ball."

The ministers took their departure, and after the door had closed Mr. Gunnels said he had one question to ask, and that was: He wanted to know whether he could play ball next Sunday. Columbus would be here, and 10,000 people wanted to be there to see them beat. He was informed the laws would be enforced.

WEDDING AT TIFFIN.

Tiffin, O., May 19.—One of the most delightful occasions of the season was the marriage of Miss Ida, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baltzell, to Cadmus S. Metz, last evening at 8:30 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian church.

After the congratulations a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The happy couple will make an extended wedding trip through Pennsylvania and Maryland, after which they will take up their residence in this city.

INCREASED CAPITAL.

Chicago, May 19.—From $2,000,000 the National Elgin watch company contemplates increasing its capital stock to $5,000,000 and perhaps $6,000,000 and to give present stockholders a stock dividend of nearly or quite 200 per cent. A meeting of the stockholders has been called for June 8 at which this plan will be considered and undoubtedly adopted.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Washington, May 19.—John M. Lackey, private secretary to Gen. Rosecrans, register of the treasury, shot himself through the heart yesterday. He was about 30 years old and lived with his wife on New Hampshire avenue. Temporary aberration of mind is given as the probable cause of the rash act.

KILLED IN A MINE.

Carthage, Mo., May 19.—The mine collapsed at the Troup diggings, near Cartersville, yesterday and a number of men who were at work were entombed.

Among those reported as victims were Charles Roach, Charles Houlet and a miner named Howell. It will take several days to recover the bodies.

HAD A SHOOTING MATCH.

Charleston, W. Va., May 19.—Gruber Mollahan and Russell Sarver met near Sutton, Braxton county, Tuesday, and immediately began shooting at each other. Both were so badly wounded that they will die. The unfaithfulness of Mrs. Mollahan caused the impromptu duel.

There is at the present moment a very curious building erected within the harbor precincts of Hamburg. It is an immense house, which is being built without the aid of scaffolding. The skeleton, entirely of iron, consisting of uprights and cross-girders and beams fitted together by the bolt system, is already in position. The brick walls of the house will be built up from the inside—that is to say the workmen will use the skeleton while building the outer walls and thus save the labor and expense of scaffolding.

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles, 50 cents and $1.00.

AN ANNEX

To Be Built to the County Infirmary at Once.

The county commissioners met with the infirmary directors yesterday and decided to build an annex to the infirmary. This is one of the biggest improvements that has ever been made at the infirmary, and work on it will begin at once.

THE SUN BROTHERS

Of This City Will Open Their Season Here.

The Sun Brothers, Toledo boys, will open their big tent show at Monroe and Fourteenth streets Monday, for a week. They commence their season here. The company is said to be an excellent one, and a good performance will be given.

THE OLDEST INMATE

Of the County Infirmary Dies at the Institution.

Mrs. Josephine Freely died at the county infirmary last night after a brief illness. The deceased was the oldest inmate of the infirmary, having been admitted July 1, 1864, and had nearly reached her 60th year in age.

TWO BAY HORSES,

Both Valuable Animals, at the City Pound.

Two handsome bay horses in excellent condition were picked up on the city streets several days since, and are now at the city pound awaiting an owner. It is thought they strayed in from the country, as no one in the city seems to have lost them.

RAIN INTERFERES

With the Hiett Sales, as Well as Everything Else.

The Hiett real estate sales of Western avenue lots was not as well attended yesterday, on account of the downpour of rain. However, a number of lots were sold. There are still a few left, and the sale will be held open until next Monday, to give al an opportunity.

THE GROUND IS BROKEN

For the Crystal Baking Company's New Building.

The Crystal Baking company this morning broke ground on property recently purchased on Oak street, near Eleventh, for a splendid business block.

The building will be three stories high, and will be constructed of brick and stone. When completed the structure will be occupied by the company and be fully equipped in every respect.

A DEATH SENTENCE

Pronounced by Judge Sala in Police Court.

A black dog arrested for vagrancy and confined in the police station made more noise this morning than attorneys Ritchie and Richardson, and Judge Sala adjourned court until the animal was shot. Everybody saw the execution, and the court pronounced the dog legally dead. Then the Gitskey case was once more continued. The poor dog's bark is now on the dark river.

TWO BURGLARS CAUGHT.

The Men Who Entered A. F. Robb's Residence Nabbed at Work.

The two men who entered the residence of A. F. Robb, 701 Walbridge avenue, Saturday night, and stole $200 worth of valuables, have been captured. They were caught in the act of entering a house at Port Clinton. Detectives Kruse and Carew have secured most of the things stolen from Mr. Robb.

THE GOLD WATCH CO.

Has Plenty of Trouble of Late—Another Case.

Albert S. Rhea made a mortgage to the Installment Gold Watch company, on Jefferson street, covering a watch and chain and then pawned the articles at T. J. Gladwell's. The watch company had Rhea arrested for the fraudulently converting mortgaged property and the case will come up in police court Monday.

K. P. DELEGATES

For the Session of the Grand Lodge—A Host of Them to be in the City.

The grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias meets at Columbus on Tuesday morning, but several of the committees will meet on Monday and prior to that time. The representatives from this city and surrounding territory will leave in a special car over the Hocking Valley road on Monday evening, but tickets for this train must be procured from the grand secretary, Col. S. A. Court, or Gen. J. W. Greene, at the Pythian castle. A satisfactory rate has been secured for this train only.

GRACE CHURCH FAIR.

It Will Be Held Next Week—Flattering Prospects.

The Bee some time since announced that the Grace Episcopal church congregation would hold a monster fair at Memorial hall during the month of May, the proceeds to be applied for the erection of a new edifice. The dates have been fixed for May 24 to the close of the week. Citizens generally are cordially invited by the officials to give the fair their hearty support. Many of the merchants have made splendid donations of articles to be disposed of, and others will follow with contributions. Besides the fair proper, there will be abundance of variety in the entertainments to be given in connection with it, so that the enjoyment may be complete. The need of a new building is apparent, and the effort to secure one will undoubtedly be successful. Toledoans are noted for their liberality, and a better opportunity could not be had for another display of the same.

FAST MAIL COMING.

A Good Attraction at the People's Next Week.

What promises to be one of the best attractions of the season will be given at the People's all next week. Lincoln J. Carter's scenic production, the "Fast Mail." This is said to be a melodrama of more than ordinary merits, while the scenic and mechanical effects equal anything that has ever been given in this city. There is a representation of an engine room on a Mississippi steamer, showing the furnaces under the boilers in active operation. A realistic train of cars shoot across the stage with wonderful effect. The scene representing Niagara Falls is said to challenge criticism and beggars description. The moonlight on the falls, and the roaring of the plunging waters, the mist arising from the seething current makes the scene as realistic one as it would be possible to make it. The play has an absorbing plot and the lines are all strong. There is plenty of humor to relieve the pathos, and altogether it is hard to get a play of more perfect symmetry. The members of the producing company are said to show good conception of the author's ideas, and they portray with them commendable accuracy.

AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Evangelical Services in Progress—Subjects Under Consideration.

Special evangelical services will be held in Y. M. C. A. hall to-night and to-morrow to be led by Mr. T. A. Lavery, the singing evangelist of Detroit. To-night "Newsboys' Night," and while it is mostly for newsboys, all boys will be welcome.

The subject for this evening will be "How yer Kin Do It." To-morrow evening will be schoolboys' night, subject, "How to Become a Hero." This talk will be illustrated by practical experiments and it is expected a good crowd will be present.

GRADUATING RECITAL.

At the School of Literature, Elocution and Physiculture.

To-morrow evening at the Phelps school, 37 Michigan street, occurs the graduation of the first class, since the school was started. Miss Phelps, who studied at the same school with Annie Jenness Miller, and came to Toledo recommended by her, has been very successful, so far as she has been able to command the attention of an indifferent public. The two young ladies who will graduate are Misses Harriet Elizabeth Peckham and Ruth Gertrude Teague. Those who have familiarized themselves with Miss Phelps' methods are enthusiastic in praise of her school. The Emerson school of oratory, the largest of its kind in the country, if not in the world, graduated one pupil in its first class, so Miss Phelps' school with two, need not despair of proper recognition and the growth that merit and perseverance must bring.

MRS. VORTRIEDE DEAD.

The Sad Event Occurred at Napoleon Yesterday Afternoon.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Napoleon occurred the death of Marguriete Heller Vortriede, after an illness of four weeks. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Vortriede were married December 28, 1888, and have resided in Toledo since that time in a pretty home on Seventeenth street. Mrs. Vortriede has been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Heller, during her illness, and the bereaved family is completely prostrated. Mr. Vortriede has been unconscious since before his wife's death, and his physicians feel very much worried over his condition.

Mrs. Vortriede was a beautiful character and a great favorite, especially among the young people. Many hearts will be filled with sadness when they read the death notice, and sympathy unbounded will go out to the afflicted. Mrs. Vortriede was only 24 years of age; so young and so fair, an angel for God's kingdom.

The funeral will occur to-morrow afternoon at Napoleon. The remains will be brought to Toledo at 4:15 to be placed in the vault at Woodlawn.

LOOKING AT PAVEMENTS.

A Delegation of Officials and Citizens from Monroe Visit Toledo.

Monroe, Mich., has decided to spend about $25,000 in street paving and a delegation of city officials and citizens are now taking a trip for the purpose of investigating different pavements. They arrived in Toledo this morning and are spending the day viewing Toledo streets and gleaning all the information possible.

The party consists of Mayor Charles T. Southworth, Aldermen W. P. Sterling, George Diffenbaugh, Adam Lahr, William Beck, Charles Hoyt, and a citizens' committee consisting of Messrs. John Wahl, John Hurd and J. B. Dewey.

They visited the offices of the mayor and the city engineer this morning and this afternoon they are being driven about the city in carriages, under the care of the entertainment committee of the council. They all express themselves as much pleased with their treatment here and they are very favorably impressed with Toledo pavements. To-night the party will leave for Columbus.

A SIZE-UP.

Reform Mayors Are About the Same Everywhere.

The Mansfield Shield and Banner thus sizes up the situation in Toledo touching base ball and kindred affairs:

The Sunday base ball situation at Toledo is assuming interesting proportions. The mayor of that city, like the present mayor of Mansfield, was elected as a "reformer." The "reform" mayor has declared himself in favor of Sunday base ball, as he says it would keep men and boys out of saloons. Every preacher in the pulpit has denounced him and religious people held a big demonstration. The ball lovers held an indignation meeting Monday night, at which the ministers of the gospel were condemned and both sides will attend the police commissioners' meeting to-night, when the question will be settled. The question naturally arises, what is a reform mayor good for if he don't close the saloons on Sunday. If he would enforce the Sunday saloon law he would have no such excuse as he offers for not enforcing the law against Sunday base ball.

THE CONVENTIONM CALLED

Democratic Central Committee Fixes June 1

For the Election of Delegates to the State and District Conventions —Primaries Under the Baber Law.

The democratic county central committee met this afternoon at Mr. C. T. Johnson's office, in the Law building, to fix the time and place for holding the county convention to select delegates to the state and district gatherings. Lucas is entitled to a representation of 15 in the former and 42 in the latter body.

In the absence of Chairman O. A. Browning, Mr. M. M. Eppstein was chosen temporary chairman and C. W. Murphy secretary.

On motion of Mr. L. G. Richardson, it was decided to hold the convention on Wednesday, June 1, the primaries, under the Baber law, to take place between the hours of 4 and 8 p. m., on May 31.

The county committee will apportion the delegates and announce the supervisors in a few days.

Ratio of representation was fixed at one delegate for every 50 votes cast for Gov. James E. Campbell at the last election, and one for fraction over 25.

HOP SING'S TRIALS.

The Chinese Leper Has Had a Rough Time of it.

New York, May 19.—Hop Sing, the Chinese leper, whom the health board shipped to the Pacific coast last summer, is back again in New York. He tells a story of his bitter experiences when the health authorities of Vancouver discovered the nature of his illness.

He was shut up in a box car with a barrel of water and some bread, and shunted back and forth over the railroad line for some time.

Finally he was carried east again, reaching here about two months ago. His return has been kept a secret by his countrymen.

OHIO'S LIBRARIAN.

John C. Tuthill, Died at Lancaster, Wednesday.

Lancaster, O., May 19.—State Librarian John C. Tuthill died very unexpectedly yesterday. He was sitting up in his library when he was stricken, and his two daughters hastened to his side and found him speechless.

They at once took him up to his room and summoned Dr. Goss, but before he arrived Mr. Tuthill had expired.

He seemed in unusual spirits. He came home from the state library and went at once to his home. After supper he was with Dr. Goss at his residence, and at 10 o'clock he and Mr. Dinkle went to the railroad telegraph office and then returned home, went to the library and read and wrote until he was stricken with death.

A change of time goes into effect on the T., A. A. & N. M. Sunday.

General Passenger Agent Moulton Houk, of the Ohio Central, is at Kenton.

General Manager A. G. Blair, of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, is in Cleveland.

General Manager J. M. Ferris, of the Ohio Central lines, is at Cleveland to-day.

District Passenger Agent C. Shee, of the Canadian Pacific at Detroit, is in town.

Division Freight Agent J. M. Osborn, of the Wabash, returned from Buffalo this afternoon.

The annual meeting of the D. & M. was held yesterday and the old board of directors was re-elected.

General Freight Agent H. J. Booth, of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, is expected home from Pittsburg, to-day.

A rate of 9 cents per 100 pounds has been authorized on paper stock from Lockland, O., to Toledo and 10 cents to Detroit.

The coal that the Ohio Central company brings up from the West Virginia fields over the K. & M., goes to into Chicago and on that market ranks equally with the product of the Pittsburg fields.

THE OPERA HOUSE PROJECT

Meeting With Hearty Approval of Business Men

Who Know a Good Investment When They See It, and Subscriptions are Coming in Fast.

The new opera house project is developing in a most flattering manner.

Business men see the wisdom of the venture and are subscribing liberally toward the enterprise. They realize that a new opera house is needed in Toledo and the first in the field will skim the cream.

Mr. Jerry Dewey, who has the matter in hand, is in the city to-day, and in conversation with a Bee on the subject, said:

"I feel perfectly confident that the deal will go through. I have received encouragement wherever I have presented my list, in the form of good, big subscriptions."

SOMETHING OF INTEREST COMING.

It is not the first time the representative of this paper has had the pleasure of announcing items of interest to every lady in Toledo and vicinity, and he is very sure that anything pertaining to dress fabrics and woman's wearing apparel has a fascination for the feminine gender. It so happened to-day that the writer of this article, in passing through the prominent house of Lasalle & Koch, caught a glimpse of the contents of many large cases of goods from the late purchases of Mr. Koch, who has just returned from New York, where he was very fortunate in securing the entire lines of Silks, Velvets, Dress Goods and Linens that were closed out by the large importing house of Sylvester Bell & Co., who are retiring from business.

Mr. Koch was allowed to make almost his own price, which will be seen and fully affirmed by everyone who may inspect the large assortment. The goods are now being arranged, and the display that will OPEN MONDAY MORNING will surely do credit to any large dry goods house of the metropolis, and will again prove the rare keen judgment of Mr. Koch as a buyer and looker after the interests of the patrons of the dry goods trade of Toledo.

A GRATEFUL RESPONSE.

An employer recently advertised in a London paper for a clerk understanding shorthand and the Penington typewriter, and having a knowledge of French and German. For these qualifications he offered a salary of £60 per annum. He received the following application:

"I am 45 years of age and was educated at Oxford university, where I matriculated in 1869, being Senior Wrangler in 1871. I write shorthand at the rate of 400 words a minute, and can operate two typewriters at once. Should this latter accomplishment be of use in your office, I would be pleased to supply the machines. I speak all the European languages fluently, am an expert accountant, and would be prepared to work 18 hours a day. The salary you mention is more than I have been receiving, and I would accept less, as, living on nuts and water, my expenses are moderate. I am a member of four burial clubs, so that, in the event of my decease while in your employ, you will feel under no moral obligations to subscribe to the cost of my funeral. I may further add that I am the holder of the London Merchants' gold medal for an essay on "Overpaid Clerks; or, Why Encourage Luxury?' I have various other accomplishments, which I would be happy to detail at an interview."—The Paper World.

FIFTY YEARS' FRACTICE

Dr. Edgerton's Experience Given to the World.

What He Does for Those Broken Down With Overwork.

Health Returning That Was Lost in Mississippi's Swamps.

A lifetime devoted to the good of humanity; half a century of labor in relieving suffering—this is the noble record of R. C. Edgerton, M. D., of Altona, Ill.

While Dr. Edgerton is nearly 70 years old, he has kept fully abreast with the discoveries of medical science. In his large practice he has thoroughly tested the discovery of Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth and to-day it is his favorite remedy in the many disorders arising from weakened nerves and impure blood.

R. C. Edgerton, M.D.

In a recent paper read before the Military Medical association, Dr. Edgerton stated:

"I am particularly well pleased with the action of Paine's celery compound in those cases where the nervous system was broken down from overwork of mind or body. I have seen remarkably good results where the patient has lost all ambition, has no appetite, is constipated, can not sleep nights, etc. I have cured several cases of weak, emaciated, hysterical females with this compound. I have noticed that it quiets excitable nerves, gives patients better rest, increases the appetite, regulates the bowels, and is a good remedy to build up broken down cases generally.

"My own health, that I lost during the war in the swamps of Mississippi, has been materially benefited by Paine's celery compound. It has given me strength to attend to my practice, and I am glad to have this opportunity of calling the attention of my professional brethren to so valuable a compound."

Dr. Edgerton is but one among the many physicians who have publicly indorsed Paine's celery compound. Such men as Dr. J. H. Hanaford, the well-known medical authority and investigator, Abraham Livezey, M. D., who is editor of several medical journals, and Dr. A. W. K. Newton, the skillful surgeon, describe it with words of most positive praise, and prescribe it for all diseases that result from a weakened and impoverished condition of the nerves and blood.

They have no hesitancy in calling it "the best spring medicine in the world," far superior to sarsaparillas, nervines, bitters, or any ordinary remedy.

It is particularly pleasing at this time when sickness is so common, to know that there is a remedy that cures. In several publications cases have been reported where the results following the use of this compound were almost miraculous, men and women who had been confined to the house for months being restored to strength and health.

THE LAIR OF THE "TWOFER."

In the language of the plebian smoker a cigar which is retailed at the modest rate of two for five cents is known as "a twofer."

It is hardly necessary to remark that this brand of weed is bad—exactly how bad it would be difficult to express in words—and its production affords moderately honest employment to divers foreigners in the lower part of the city.

The Italian is particularly fond of this line of business, and in the establishment of Antonio Pasini, who makes "cigari Italiani" on Mulberry street, one may see a typical "twofer" mill.

Signor Pasini's two assistants toil in a gloomy basement, and turn out several hundred alleged cigars daily.

They are guided in their task by the debilitated rays of two wobbly kerosene lamps, and as the light is not favorable to accurate work some of the cigars are shaped like sections of lead pipe and others look like young pine cones.

The leaf which is moulded into these models of symmetry springs from the fertile fields of northern Connecticut, and to describe it as the Flor de Shepang would be both accurate and poetical. It has a four-horse power strength, a grain like a Brussels carpet and exhales an odor like burning oilcloth.

As the cigars are completed they are adorned with gilded bands and packed in boxes of fifty.

They are then left to mildew in the cellar until an order arrives. In the winter The Lonely Six and the Gentlemen's Sons of the Eighth Ward are Signor Pasini's principal patrons; his wares are placed on sale at their balls and other public festivities where it is considered de rigeur to hold an unlighted cigar lightly between the teeth while waltzing.

In the summer Signor Pasini's chef d'oeuvres reward the expert marksman at the seaside shooting gallery and spread their sulphurous fumes over the decks of the Sunday excursion barge.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

STILL MORE TROUBLE

For the Flint Glass Sand and Stone Company.

Proceedings Instituted in Probate Court to Garnishee Six Car Loads of Sand.

The Flint Glass Sand and Stone company is having a great deal of trouble in the courts these days.

Following the levy made on property at Monclova by the sheriff, which was recently announced in the Bee, comes a garnishee of six car loads of sand in the case of the Lake Shore Railroad company in this city.

Yesterday afternoon John Jennings, by his attorney, I. N. Huntsberger, instituted in probate court proceedings in aid of execution to recover on a claim of $400.

The Lake Shore was garnisheed to ascertain whether that company was in possession of any property owned by the Flint Glass Sand and Stone company.

The garnishee was examined yesterday afternoon before Probate Judge Millard, and there was reported six cars of sand, on which Jennings, through the sheriff, had made levy. Further hearing in the case was then continued until this morning.

NOTES FROM NAPOLEON.

Cases Disposed of in the Courts—A Wedding.

Napoleon, O., May 19.—(Special)—Several months ago Wm. Close and G. Zellers were charged with the burglary of Blake's saloon at Deshler. They were indicted, Zellars for burglary and Close as an accessory.

The cases as tried at this term of court were heard before separate juries. In the case of Zellers the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty," while the jury for Close found him guilty.

Newt. Leiter, a farmer living in Freedom township, has been found guilty of assault and battery.

The case of Emily Weber, of Toledo v. G. Flogans, of Napoleon township, wherein the plaintiff asks $5,000 for blighted affection, is set for hearing to-day.

Mr. Fred Harms, of Toledo, and Miss Anna Rohrs, of this place, were joined in marriage at the home of the bride's parents Tuesday evening, in the presence of relatives and a few friends. The happy pair after the ceremony departed for Toledo, which place will be their future home.

His Grandfather Was Dead.

A Tammany brave, who is a close friend of Sergeant-at Arms Tim Coakley, caused a flurry in the treasury department a day or two ago by ingeniously circumventing one of the cast-iron regulations provided for the clerks in Uncle Sam's big beehive, says a Washington correspondent of the New York World. One of the rules most strictly enforced is that no employe can be seen by outsiders during business hours, "except in case of sickness or death." The Tammanyite was very anxious to see a friend before returning to New York, and upon being informed of the rule was for a moment at a loss how to proceed. Suddenly a bright idea struck him. "Please say to the chief of division," he said to the doorkeeper in a plaintiff tone, "that I want to see Brown very much. My grandfather is dead." The doorkeeper performed the errand with alacrity and Brown speedily appeared and shook the Tammanyite's hand with much sympathy.

"I'm very sorry, old man, to hear of your grandfather's death," he said. "I know that sympathy doesn't amount to much on these occasions, but I am really very much pained."

"Oh, that's all right," replied the New Yorker. "The old man died about 20 years ago. Come out and get a cocktail. I want to talk to you."

Too Much "Ladying."

"One of the most maddening things on earth," said a woman the other day, "is the persistent 'ladying' I get at the hands of the tradesmen. My butcher and grocer and fishman are hopelessly committed to this form of address. I expect no relief in their cases, but why the clerks in the dry goods stores are not taught better I cannot see. It is so much more pleasing to be called 'madame;' the continued interpolation of the word 'lady' as I am making a purchase irritates me to the verge of exasperation, and has on a few occasions driven me from a counter without waiting to select the goods I wanted." Madame is certainly more dignified, formal, and general. It can be applied to the most youthful shopper that ever matched samples or to the elderly and sedate purchaser of staple household goods. "Lady" always sounds so cringing and retailly, while madame is a term applied to each other by the highest in the land, a fact that should surely recommend it in these days, when the assumption of inequality on the part of the employer and employed is resented as an insult.

From the Detroit Tribune it is learned that the Alger boom is still booming. Outside of Detroit this is news.

The Chicago Times, recently an anti-Cleveland paper, wheels into line for the choice of the west and runs up its flag for Grover Cleveland.

And now comes a republican organ growling because the democratic house didn't pull the national purse strings on the river and harbor bill (they knew better than to expect anything of the kind from the republican senate).

Of course Henri Watterson will be one of the delegates-at-large from Kentucky to the Chicago convention. His state never fails to confer that honor and he never fails in return to honor the old Commonwealth by his good work in convention. Mr. Watterson is a forceful character in the national councils of his party.

To have or not to have base ball, excursions, open saloons and other enjoyable things on Sunday in Toledo: this is a question which Mayor Emmick and the good ministers have not yet fully determined. To be more correct, the Mayor and his little police board have not determined. We shall know all about it later.

It is proposed to issue $5,000,000 in silver half dollars as a Columbian memorial, the same to help along the big fair. Enthusiasts are expected to fall in line in booming the issue regardless of their opinion of seventy-cent dollars. This country can be relied upon to indulge in all sorts of oddities in season and out of season. It is a sort of a free-for-all and everything goes.

Even his most inveterate enemies must pity President Harrison. The "friends" who stand around him, and who, he is absolutely certain, have knives concealed about their persons, are too many and too versatile in their profession, to make a man comfortable. Mr. Clarkson said yesterday, loud enough for Mr. Harrison to hear—"the 7,000,000 republicans who will be represented at Minneapolis have not made up their minds regarding their candidate." What Mr. Clarkson says, goes.

Mayor Emmick made an exhibition of himself, as usual, at the meeting of the police commissioners last evening. He said his feelings were hurt by the action of the preachers. Very likely their feelings were contused by his whacks, else they would have had no occasion to hit back. In all seriousness Mr. Emmick, as mayor or citizen, should begin to realize that he can't ride two sides of all questions at the same time. He is most glorious with promise and most wretched with fulfillment. He is constantly on tap for every degree of ridiculousness.

The case of the United States in the Bering Sea arbitration could not have been placed in better hands than with Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court and Senator Morgan of Alabama. The Justice is renowned for his great knowledge of international law, and Senator Morgan is equally as strong in law. Both are thoroughly familiar with the entire situation and if they can not make a case for this country before the foreign arbitrators England will be welcome to all it obtains. President Harrison is to be congratulated upon his excellent selection.

The New York Record is thanking Harrison, Blaine, Tracy and McKinley that "we shall again rule the seas." Inasmuch as Secretary Whitney gave the navy its new start after more than twenty years of republican blight, and Secretary Tracy recognized this fact by saying that he should carry forward the work commenced by Mr. Cleveland's secretary; and inasmuch as the free registery bill was introduced by a democrat and carried by a democratic house, the boast is like a good many others made by the claim-everything party.

The fight for Sunday observance appears to be on in good earnest. It takes the form that these conflicts always do: if you object to law-breaking in one case you must in all. Then citizens begin to realize how many laws there are on the statute book that are obsolete so far as any effort at enforcement is concerned. It is the same fight that is on in New York only in a little different form. It is the weakness and the disgrace of the cities all over the country that laws are neither enforced nor repealed. We can take lessons of the old world cities in nearly every branch of municipal government. The cause for constant conflict lies deeper than the surface.

"Indignant Democrats."

This is the caption to an editorial reference to Louisiana sugar planters, in the Washington Post. They are said to be indignant because there is congressional talk of lopping off the sugar bounty, a tax excrescence which costs the people of the United States several millions of dollars annually.

The selfishness of the planters is human nature freshly illustrated. The planters are willing to be made beneficiaries and pensioners at the expense of everybody else, though sugar planting is by no means an infant industry in the United States.

If various industries and pursuits of life are to be made remunerative at public expense, why not all? There is as much reason for apple raising to receive a bounty as maple sugar, and as much sense in pensioning the rice planters as the sugar planters. The principle is bad as applied in this country. It is lop-sided and expensive, to the unprotected.

SIXTH DISTRICT DEMOCRATS.

Cincinnati, O., May 19.—The Sixth district of Ohio democratic convention at Loveland, O., renominated Hon. J. M. Pattison for congress. The district having been changed since Mr. Pattison's election, the republican majority to overcome is over 3,000. R. T. Hough and M. Hutchinson were chosen delegates to the Chicago convention, and George P. Tyler and J. W. Denver, jr., alternates.

QUEBEC BUDGET.

Quebec, May 19.—The provincial budget which will be brought down on Friday, will show the estimated ordinary expenditure for the coming year to be $4,582,000, while the ordinary revenue is only estimated at $3,400,000, which shows an apparent deficit of over $1,000,000.

DOVILLE'S EXPLANATION.

He Will Not Bear the Blame of Emmick's Blunders.

Rich and Racy Ruse of Vince to Get Doville in a Hole—Vince's Plunging on the Brown Appointment.

As a political chameleon Toledo's redoubtable mayor stands alone and first.

His double-dealing in the Brown appointment was shown in last evening's Bee, but not until later in the afternoon was the full depth of the political depravity of the deal fully understood.

The blunder of forcing a reconsideration of Brown's appointment was to be credited to Commissioner Doville. At least so Vince proposed.

Asked by Walter Brown regarding the reconsideration the mayor intimated that Doville insisted on Brown's removal.

Brown hastened at once to Doville, who told him plainly that he was then and always was opposed to his (Brown's) appointment, but he knew nothing of the purpose to reconsider the vote.

"The facts are these," said Mr. Doville to a Bee last evening, "the mayor has been playing double. I voted against Brown at the Saturday night meeting and voted for a reconsideration to-night, but I wish to say right now that I was not instrumental directly or indirectly in bringing up the reconsideration. I hadn't spoken to Mayor Emmick from the Saturday night's meeting until yesterday morning, when he hailed me across the street. Approaching me he said:

"'Say, Doville, we are going to reconsider Brown's appointment.'

"'Is that so?' I said.

"'Yes, and we want you to make the motion to reconsider. If you don't I'll get down out of the chair and make the motion myself.'

"'All right,' I said, 'I'll make the motion.'

"Afterwards I thought the matter over and decided that I could not make the motion, inasmuch as I had voted with the minority—the beaten side. I at once so informed Mr. Emmick, and yet in face of these facts he turns around and says I am to blame for this gigantic blunder."

At a caucus held yesterday afternoon the role carried out at the meeting last evening was agreed upon. The object was not to remove Brown, but to give Vince a justification that would help reinstate him in the good graces of Jake Kurtz et al.

It was a great scheme to throw dust in the eyes of the indignant butchers, and particularly to pull the wool over the eyes of Jake Kurtz. But did it?

JUDGE BLODGETT.

He Will Resign as Judge to Argue Bering Sea Matters.

Chicago, May 19.—Judge Blodgett has announced that he will resign from the bench of the United States district court. He is to be one of the counsel for the United States in the Bering Sea arbitration. His intention has not been publicly announced, and only a few of his closest political friends know of it.

THE EVENING SESSION.

The Doctors Enjoy a Boat Ride

After the Secret Session—The Next Annual Meeting Will be Held At Indianapolis.

As stated in last night's Bee, the afternoon session of the physio-medics was a secret one. It was devoted to the consideration of subjects of interest to the association only, and when it closed the members took a sail on the river.

At last night's meeting a committee of three was appointed to prepare a list of officers and a place for holding the next meeting. The committee reported the following list of officers, the report being heartily approved by the association:

President—Charles A. Stafford, M. D., B. S.

Vice-President—M. H. Carey, M. D., New York.

Second Vice-President—Mrs. Dr. M. T. Pierce, Robinson, Ill.

Secretary—A. W. Fisher, Indianapolis.

Treasurer—Dr. E. Anthony, Indianapolis.

The members of the executive committee who served last year are: Doctors Z. Carey, G. H. Scroggy, W. F. Pechuman. These members were elected to serve the ensuing year.

A very interesting paper was read by Dr. Charles A. Stafford. The paper called out considerable discussion and at its conclusion the session adjourned until this morning.

The physio-medics held their morning session in the Boody house reception room, which was a decided improvement on the stuffy little room where the first meetings were held. Drs. Keith and Pachuman read the papers this morning, and after much and long-drawn out discussion the session adjourned till 1:30 this afternoon.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The naturalization mill is about to start up. There is a whole barl of grease to oil it with, and it will run on full time till the close of the campaign.—Chicago Tribune.

Minister Egan is not to be investigated by this congress. Probably this decision has been arrived at in the interest of an glorious and healthful summer.—New York Telegram.

The frequent assaults upon passengers in compartment cars abroad ought to prove conclusively the superiority of our American style of railroad coaches. The compartment car must go.—Indianapolis News.

On one side we have the voice of the democrats of nineteen states declaring for Cleveland, and on the other the voice of Henry Watterson declaring against Mr. Cleveland. Which is the more likely to be right?—Atlanta Journal.

Is it "the good work of the Harrison Administration" that for every four dollars added to the price of goods, three dollars goes into the pockets of the employing capitalists and only one dollar finds its way to their workmen?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Any one possessed of a file of any reliable newspaper can refer back and read, practically, what Gov. McKinley said at Ann Arbor. Napoleon the great stuck to the same sword, the gentleman from Ohio, who professes to look like the late French emperor, sticks to the same speech.—Detroit Free Press.

Notwithstanding Mr. Blaine's persistent silence, his friends insist that he is the only republican who can carry their party to victory as a presidential candidate and arouse it to a fighting pitch. They rely upon his personal magnetism and popularity with the rank and file to arouse the drooping spirits of the republican hosts. It is intimated that the famous secretary has reached the "almost persuaded" stage.—New York News.

So many attempts on the part of British colonies to supply the motherland with products have proved successful, that it would not be surprising if another had to be recorded. Australia has consigned to the London market a quantity of native brandy, which is pronounced by experts to be palatable and of high quality. Last year a similar experiment was tried, but owing to inexperience in shipping it failed. This year the outlook is good.—Toronto Empire.

If it is a good thing to admit to American registry two foreign-built steamers because they have an aggregate measurement of 21,000 tons and a high speed and belong to a company 90 per cent. of whose stock is owned by Americans, why would it not be a better thing, working similar benefits on a much larger scale, to allow any company wholly American to own as many foreign-built vessels as it chose to buy, of whatever size or speed, and to run them under the American flag? If there is any advantage and profit in the one scheme, why not a far greater advantage and a much higher profit in the other?—New York Times.

The death of Mrs. Madge Vordtriede, wife of Mr. H. C. Vordtriede, of the Toledo Express, is a sad event to chronicle. So young, so bright, so capable, it is hard to realize her death. Sincerest sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband, and the parents, Hon. and Mrs. S. M. Heller, of Napoleon.

THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

Put in an Evening Considering Claims Against the City.

The judiciary committee met last evening and acted upon a number of claims of various kinds against the city. The claim of Patrick Sullivan for damages because of injuries sustained by a fall on a defective sidewalk was again rejected. This claim has been tried twice in court. The first time Sullivan was given a verdict of $4,800. This the city thought too high, and on a second trial a verdict of $700 was rendered. Now Sullivan asks more than this.

A claim of Frederick Som for $500 damages for a fall was referred to a sub-committee.

A large number of assessments and abatement claims were acted upon.

THEY HAVE LOCATED.

The Hammond Co. Makes a Purchase,

And It Looks as If They Would Build Soon—A Site Chosen Near the Clover Leaf Railroad.

As stated in yesterday's Bee, the Hammond Meat Packing company will locate a branch of their concern in Toledo.

They desired to be on some railroad where their cars could be handled with facility, and to-day it is given out that the point of land at the intersection of Ontario and Lafayette streets, next to the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City railroad tracks, has been purchased for a consideration amounting to something like $3,500.

The property was purchased from Mr. Butler, of New York.

The Clover Leaf will build a side track on the Hammond company's property.

The Hammond company will probably build at once, as yesterday a gentleman who had his lumber piled on the land was notified to remove it as soon as possible, that operations could commence.

Substantial buildings will be erected, and the company will make a strong bid for business in this locality.

HOTEL MADISON LEASED

To a Well Known Hotel Man from Omaha.

W. O. Field Will Manage the Hotel Henceforth and Increase Its Popularity to a Large Extent.

W. O. Field, who comes to Toledo from Omaha, Neb., has leased Hotel Madison from F. J. Scott and will personally manage the running of the concern. Mr. Field is a popular hotel man, and is thoroughly versed in all that goes to make up the successful management of a first-class house. He made a large amount of money with the Merriam hotel at Omaha, and sells out his interest there to locate in Toledo, where he thinks there is a field open wherein he can exert his energies.

Hotel Madison is being carpeted, painted, papered and put in excellent shape, and there will be many changes for the betterment of the service. Particular attention will be paid to the cuisine, which will not be excelled by any hotel in the city.

Mr. Field has succeeded in filling nearly every room in the house already. He is an enterprising and most agreeable gentleman, and Toledoans welcome him and wish him every success in his undertaking.

THE CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

Last Meeting of the Ramabai Circle

Before the Summer Vacation—Last Meeting of the Colloquial Club To-morrow Afternoon.

Mrs. Randolph, of Adams street, entertained a good-sized meeting of the Ramabai circle yesterday afternoon, in spite of the heavy shower that prevailed at the hour of convening. It being the annual meeting, after the reading of the constitution, and other business, the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Annie E. Ensign; vice president, Mrs. E. M. Pike; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Cornelia Shaw. The secretary gave interesting correspondence from Ramabai school in Poona, India, written by the more advanced pupils, giving a detailed account of the school and its progress. From medical and missionary Anglo-Indian literature, many articles were read and many facts cited, of recent occurrence, bearing on the terrible outrages under which Hindoo girl children of British India, suffer. Among the ladies taking part in the proceedings were: Mesdames D. C. Shaw, Randolph, E. Bateman, M. B. Eck, Bacon, W. S. Thurston, Charles Peck, and R. L. Segur. The June meeting will be the last of the season and will be held with the Mesdames Eck, 1212 Madison street.

The Colloquial club will hold its last meeting before the summer vacation, at the Law kindergarten rooms to-morrow afternoon. The paper will be read by Miss Cora Law on "Boy's Rights."

The Columbian club holds its last meeting before vacation to-morrow night. An excellent program has been prepared.

GOV. M'KINLEY.

He Will Dedicate the Convention Hall.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 19.—It has been definitely settled that Gov. McKinley will deliver the formal opening address at the dedication of the big convention hall on the night before the opening of the republican national convention.

Chauncey M. Depew or some other shining light will also deliver an address. The rest of the program will be musical.

The convention band, Weldon's Second Regiment, of Chicago, will play several selections. There will be a great chorus of 1,500 voices in patriotic songs, and some soloists of note from abroad, as well as local talent. The music committee has given instructions that some seats be held for filling orders from outside cities.

FREE SILVER MEN.

The Chair Ruled Against Them in the House.

Washington, May 19.—The silver question was the feature of interest in the house yesterday, and much to the disappointment of the silverites the chair sustained the right of order raised against Mr. Bartine's free coinage amendment to the sundry civil bill and the house clinched the matter by upholding the chair's decision. Later on Mr. Bland offered an amendment for the coinage of all silver bullion purchased and now in the treasury into standard silver dollars.

Points of order were raised against the amendment and the speaker reserved his decision, which will be awaited with interest and impatience by the free coinage men and their opponents alike.

LIMA NATIONAL BANK.

Lima, O., May 19.—A dividend of 50 per cent. has been declared by the comptroller of the currency in favor of depositors in the Lima National bank. Receiver O. L. Hays and assistants were kept busy to-day filling out checks, which will be forwarded to the comptroller for his signature, when the cash will be forthcoming. Receiver Hays is receiving many compliments for his expeditious handling of the tangled affairs of the defunct bank.

MARRIAGE OF R. M. HASELTINE.

Pomeroy, O., May 19.—Hon. Robert M. Haseltine, state wine inspector, was united in marriage to-day with Miss Libbie W. Taylor, at the bride's home in Syracuse, a pretty little town five miles above this city. The bride is one of the handsomest women in the county, is highly cultured, and has been prominently identified with the public schools of the vicinity for several years.

DESPICABLE POLITICS.

Ward Heelers Hound Labor Commissioner Lewis.

One of the Fellows Even Offers to Take a Woman's Place for $10 a Month Less Than She Receives.

State Labor Commissioner Lewis must have taken away with him a mean idea of the depravity of Toledo politics and politicians.

No such an unseemly and disgraceful scramble for two insignificant offices has ever been witnessed.

From the moment of his arrival in Toledo to the minute he departed, his steps were dogged every hour of the day and every minute of the hour by the gang of ward politicians who are seeking the office.

It would not be fair or just to say that all the eight candidates were equally impudent and forward in pushing their claims. One or two had the decency to remain away from the levee.

So desperately hungry has the gang become that one of them, Maj. G. Flock, actually told Mr. Lewis that he was willing to take Miss Josie Skehan's position for less money than she receives. He was willing and ready, he said, to save the state $10 a month.

Mr. Lewis was anxious to obtain some information relative to the merits of the candidates. The Bee would respectfully refer for a pedigree of some of them to the police court records.

Mr. Lewis offended quite a number of prominent and reputable republicans by his failure to keep appointments made with them. Col. J. C. Bonner had asked Mr. Lewis to dinner and the invitation had been accepted. Several other appointments were similarly broken.

It is but fair, however, to say for Mr. Lewis that he was the victim of circumstances and cannot be well held responsible. As has been stated the gang staid by him so that he had not a moment that he could call his own.

"Some may like this," he said wearily, just before his departure, "but I don't."

Ex-Secretary of State Ryan, in a recent communication to an eastern newspaper on the state free employment offices, points out the one great danger to the utility and efficiency of local offices or bureaus, and that is the tendency to make them political machines. He says the bill was passed unanimously and was not a partisan measure, yet here are the local republican howlers attempting to destroy the very beneficial institution by dragging it down into the mire of politics.

THE FOURTEENTH OHIO.

The Outlook is Cloudy at the Present Writing.

Mansfield, O., May 19.—The republican congressional convention for the Fourteenth district will be held in this city May 25, and the nearer the day of the convention the more uncertain its outcome.

The withdrawal of ex-Congressman Wickham, of Huron county, it was supposed, would make almost certain the nomination of Hon. L. C. Laylin, as he would naturally have the solid support of Huron county, but the intimation from both Huron and Lorain counties that Wickham did not enter the race to stay to a finish is being used by other candidates against Laylin.

In Lorain county both ex-Representative W. A. Braman and E. G. Johnson are still in the race with some degree of ill-feeling on account of Braman's declination to accept Johnson's proposition that the question of their candidacy should be left to a primary election by the republicans of the county, the one receiving the fewer votes to withdraw and allow the solid vote of the county to be cast for the other.

In addition to this, Johnson asserts in the Elyria paper of which he is editor, that Braman, of Lorain, and Laylin, of Huron, have an understanding in the interests of Laylin, and that this has been brought about by Rollin A. Horr, of Lorain county, twin brother of ex-Congressman Roswell G. Horr, of Michigan. Rollin A. Horr, it will be remembered, was the nominee of the old Fourteenth district when it was as it is now constituted, but was defeated by Congressman George M. Geddes, of this city.

With this condition of affairs prevailing in the only reliable republican counties of the district there is a strong undercurrent of opinion favorable to the candidacy of some man who is not identified with any faction, and who is reasonably sure of the solid support of his own county.

Ashland, Knox and Morrow counties have no candidates as yet. Knox, the only county that was expected to have one, having declared that the only thing it will ask of the convention is the election of ex-Congressman W. C. Cooper as a delegate to the Minneapolis convention.

Richland county will present but one candidate, ex-State Senator W. S. Kerr, of this city, for whom the county is pledged.

WHERE ARE THE BOATS?

One Thousand Cars of Coal in East Toledo,

And the Ohio Central Has Difficulty to Secure Vessels to Push It Forward.

The Ohio Central docks at Toledo have been improved to a considerable extent, and the capacity for ore this coming season will be more than double that of last year, the capacity now being 200,000 tons. Just at present the T. & O. C. is not hauling as much coal as is usual at this season of the year as 1,000 cars of coal are standing in East Toledo that it is impossible to push forward on account of the difficulty of obtaining boats.

The vessel men are so anxious to get a whack at the ore business in the upper lakes that they are hanging around in that locality. Many, it is said, have gone up light rather than endure the delay a cargo would cause. It is expected that there will be plenty of boats next month.

It was generally thought that there would be plenty of boats this season, as it is a fact that there are more afloat on the lakes than ever before. Yet there don't seem to be any scramble for business, as the above incident proves.

GOVERNOR CAMPBELL.

What He Says on National Politics.

Ohio Will Have a Big Four but He Does Not undertake to Name Them.

New York, May 19.—Ex-Governor Jas. E. Campbell, of Ohio, is at the Fifth Avenue hotel. The other day it was reported in the newspapers that Mr. Cleveland thought of retiring from the contest for the democratic nomination for president in favor of Mr. Campbell. Mr. Campbell laughed pleasantly when he was questioned about the matter.

"I know nothing about it except what I have read in the newspapers," he said. "Up to the time I left home no express package had arrived for me containing any message from Mr. Cleveland on the subject. Of course, I cannot tell what may happen."

The governor said that the Ohio convention to elect delegates to Chicago would not meet until June 13. When told that this was very late, he said: "Yes, that is true, but we will be in a position to know which way the wind blows by that time."

"Do you think the Ohio convention will instruct for any candidate?"

"I believe that it will not, but there are nearly 800 delegates in the convention and it is hard to tell what they may decide to do. I do not anticipate any instructions, however. As to the delegates at large, they have not been selected yet. I presume we will select a big four, after the custom of New York."

"Whom do you think will be nominated at Chicago?"

"I would not undertake to say. The drift seems to be in favor of Mr. Cleveland, but no one can predict what the convention may do."

WALTER BROWN STICKS.

The Motion to Reconsider His Election

As Meat Inspector Fails to Carry—Petition for Reinstatement of Detective Duffy—Routine Business.

After the Sunday base ball question had been disposed of at the meeting of the police board last night, regular business was taken up.

Mr. Potter moved that the action with regard to the appointment of a meat inspector taken at the last meeting be reconsidered, which was seconded and lost by a tie vote, Potter and Waring voting nay.

Mr. Potter stated that the vote settled all controversy, and he hoped that Mr. Brown would receive his credentials without any further trouble.

Mr. Doville was of the opinion that an injustice had been wrought in the dismissal of Officer Matthews at the last regular meeting, without cause or trial. He made a motion to reinstate, which carried.

The health officer submitted his monthly report, which included a recommendation that some provision be made for the care of contagious diseases in case of an emergency. A motion was approved instructing the mayor to notify the council to provide a pest house at once.

A resolution was adopted requiring that all vaults must be cleaned between the hours of 6 a. m. and 7 p. m.; that a tent must be pitched over the vault and disinfectants buried during the operation.

A petition signed by a number of Toledo butchers, requesting the removal of Walter Brown as meat inspector was presented. Action in this matter had been taken, and the effort was in vain.

The following petition was presented protesting against the dismissal of Detective Duffy:

Toledo, O., May 13th, 1892.

To the Honorable Board of Police Commissioners of the City of Toledo, State of Ohio:

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned citizens of Toledo, O., recognizing the faithful, efficient and invaluable services of James A. Duffey as detective, most earnestly urge you, irrespective of party, that he be retained in his former position, or as a regular patrolman.

LIKE A CLOUD-BURST.

Heavy Rains Continue to Fall in St. Marys.

St. Marys, O., May 19.—(Special)—The heaviest rainstorm that has visited this section for years was experienced here last evening. The fall of rain was something remarkable, and over an inch of water fell within thirty minutes.

High street near Water was completely submerged and sewers all over the city were overflowed, so heavy was the fall. This will be a serious setback to the farmers, as the warm weather of the past few days had encouraged them to commence planting corn, and the work was but half finished. The St. Marys river is booming again and another overflow is feared.

Great preparations are being made for the commencement exercises, which will be held on Thursday evening, June 2. There are only three graduates this year, viz: Misses Ray Bamberger, Effie Lloyd and Carrie Jay.

THE CITY BUYS LAND

On Superior Street Adjoining the Police Station.

On Which Site the Patrol Barn Stands—$6,000 Paid—The Cash Turned Over.

The city now owns a patrol barn, ground and all.

The present quarters have been held by lease, subject to an option of purchase for considerable time.

To-day a deal was closed, whereby the city comes into possession of 30 feet frontage on Market space, Superior street, adjoining the police station.

The property was purchased by the city from Judge M. J. Williams, of the Superior Court of Ohio, through his agent, F. A. Kumler, for the sum of $6,000. The cash was paid over at noon to-day.

There is nothing in a physician's life that gives him more satisfaction than seeing the prompt effect of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil in bringing back plumpness and color to thin and pale children.

"Poor baby!" Everybody sees the sad picture. No one but the physician appreciates it. He knows what dangers threaten thin children.

Let us send you a book about thinness.

THE STORY OF A VOTER.

He was a poor, deserving man—
His chance in life was slim;
When Colonel Brown for office ran
He said he'd vote for him.

With Major Jones (who gave him five)
He made a contract, too;
Said he: "It is on cash we thrive;
I'll poll a vote for you."

To General Scott (who made it ten)
He said: "A man must live;
The country's needing just such men—
You'll get the vote I give."

Thus was a contract made with three
But at the polls in town
Great was the major's mystery
To see him vote for Brown!

Likewise the colonel, watching by,
Did greatly curse his lot.
To see the faithless fellow's vote
Go in for Major Jones.

Then Jones, and Brown, and Scott were heard
To swear both long and loud;
That humble man had kept his word
By voting for the crowd!

Charles G. Leland traces the origin of the saying in reference to a small place "there is not room enough to swing a cat" to a superstition current in Transylvania. In this country, it is said, if a cat runs away, when recovered she must be swung three times around to attach her to the dwelling. The same is done with a stolen cat by a thief if he would retain it.

A Kansas City paper says that there is a bowlder in the Ozarks which will attract a jack-knife dropped nine feet away, and that along the line of the fifth principal meridian in the counties of Carter, Reynolds, Iron and Washington, the lines of east and west surveys are deflected from the true course several degrees, the needle being affected by deposits of loadstone.

A Maryland farmer adopts this method of ridding his premises of English sparrows: Whenever they get too plentiful he equips each man on the farm with a flat board, and they all proceed after dark with lanterns to the bird roost. Among the thousand and one recently invented dental and surgical appliances is an ingenious device of French origin for producing local paralysis of the nerves in order that minor dental and surgical operations may be painless. It consists of a tube filled with a highly volatile liquid. One end of the tube terminates in a closed nozzle an inch in length. This may be broken off, and the break leaves an orifice opening into the tube. Meanwhile the heat of the hand volatilizes the liquid, and the stream of vapor may be directed against the parts to be deadened of feeling. The parts are in effect frozen, and the condition continues long enough for the completion of the operation. It is asserted that the tissues are uninjured by the action of the vapor.

CULTURE ON BITTER CHEEK.

Just before the Union Pacific railroad reached the Bitter Creek country I made my first overland trip to the Pacific coast. I staged it from the then terminus of the Union Pacific to the Central Pacific, which was pushing east. The stage broke down on Bitter Creek and the passengers had to walk to the next station. I grew tired before I reached the station, and coming late in the afternoon to where some teamsters were camped I concluded to stop with them for the night. On asking their permission to do so they assented so heartily that I felt at home at once. Life in the west was something new to me. I was young and buoyant and just out of college. I was fond of talking. I thought it would be novel and delightful to sleep out of doors with these half-savage ox drivers, with no shelter but the vaulted, star-gemmed heavens.

There were four teamsters and as many wagons, while thirty-two oxen grazed around in the vicinity. Of the teamsters one was a giant in stature and wore a bushy black beard; another was shorter, but powerfully built and one-eyed, the third was tall, lank and hame-jawed, while the fourth was a wiry, red-headed man. In my thoughts I pitied them on account of the hard life they led and spoke to them in a kind tone and endeavored to make my conversation instructive. I plucked a flower and pulling it to pieces, mentioned the names of the parts—pistil, stamens, calyx and so on—and remarked that it must be indigenous to the locality and spoke of the plant being endogenous, in contradistinction to exogenous, and that they could see that it was not cryptogamous. In looking at some fragments of rock my thoughts wandered off into geology, and I spoke of tertiary and carboniferous periods, and of the pterodactyl, ichthyosaurus and dinotherium.

The teamsters looked at me, then at each other, but made no response. We squatted down around the frying pan to take supper and as the big fellow with his right hand slapped, or sort of larraped, a long piece of fried bacon over a piece of bread in his left hand, sending a drop of hot grease in my left, he said to the one-eyed man: "Bill is my Shakespeare in your wagon? I missed it today."

"No. My Tennerson and volume of Italian poets is in thar—no Shakespeare."

The lank-looking teamster, biting off a piece of bread about the size of a saucer, said to the big man in a voice which came huskily through the bread: "Jake, did yer ever read that volum' of po'ms that I writ?"

"No; but hev hern tell on 'em."

"Yer mean Musin's of an Idle Man?" spoke up the red-headed man, addressing the poet.

"Yes."

"Hev read every line in it a dozen times," said the teamster with the red hair, and as he sopped a four-inch swath with a piece of bread across the frying pan he repeated some lines.

"Them's they," nodded the poet. "The Emp'ror of Austry writ me a letter highly complimentin' them po'ms."

"They're very techin'," added the wiry man.

I took no part in these remarks. Somehow I did not feel like joining in.

The wiry man had somewhat satisfied his appetite, rolled up a piece of bacon rind into a sort of single-barreled opera glass and began to squint through it toward the northern horizon.

"What yer doin' Dave?" asked the stout man.

"Takin' observations of the North star. Want to make some astronomical calkilations when I get ter Sacramenter."

"Well, yer needn't ter make that tel'scope. I could er took ver observation fer yer, as I haint but one eye."

"Git out thar, ver old carboniferous pterodactyl!" yelled the hame-jawed driver to an ox that was licking a piece of bacon.

"I give a good deal of my time to 'stronomy when I was up in Yorrup," remarked the tall man.

"Over thar long?" asked one.

"Good while. Was minister to Rooshy. Then I spent some time down in Rome.

"Rome!" exclaimed the lank individual. "Was born there. My father was a sculptor."

"Well, one wouldn't er thought it to look at ver."

"I never was in Yorrup," remarked the one-eyed man. "When I occupied the cheer of ancient languages in Harvard College my health failed, and the feller that had me hired wanted me to go ter Yorrup for an out, but I concluded to come west to look—Hold up thar, yer old flea-bitten ichy'ceverus!" he bawled to an ox that was chewing a cud.

I felt hot and feverish and a long way from home.

"I got ready once ter go to Rome—wanted ter complete my studies—but gave it up," said the one they called Dave.

"What fud?"

"They wanted me to run for gov'ner in Virginny."

"Yer beat 'em?"

"Thunder, yes."

"Why didn't yer stay thar?"

"Well, when my job as gov'ner gave out they 'lected me 'Pisconal Bishop, an' I hurt my lungs preachin'. Come west for my lungs."

"Found 'em?"

"Well, I'm 'mprovin'."

I did not rest well that night. As day came on and the men began to turn over in their blankets and yawn, the tall one said: "Hello, Bill! How yer makin' it?"

"Oh, I'm indigenous."

"An' Dave?"

"I'm endogenous."

"An' you, lanky, yer son of a sculptor?"

"Exogenous."

"How do you feel, Jake?" inquired one of the three.

"Cryptogamous, sir; cryptogamous."

I walked out a few steps to a little stream to get a drink. I felt thirsty and ached. Then I heard a voice from the blankets: "Wonder if those darned old blotherins of ourn are done grazin'?"

Then a reply: "I guess they've got to the tertiary period."

I walked a little piece to breathe the morning air. I kept on.—San Francisco Wasp.

GENUINE STATESMANSHIP.

Col. Hardfoot has been nominated for congress in one of the western states, and a reporter of the Cyclone was out feeling the pulse of the people as to the colonel's qualifications.

"I suppose," he said to Maj. Speakeasy, "that you know Col. Hardfoot was nominated for congress over at Bildad this morning?"

"No; is that so?" exclaimed the major, with a pleasant smile.

"Yes; what kind of a statesman do you think the colonel will prove in Washington?"

"Bang up," and the major slapped his leg. "He ain't much, mebbe, on law makin', but he makes the finest hand at poker you ever see. And liquor! Why, the colonel kin ketch a three-inch stream from a nozzle and never waste a drop. Thar ain't no doubt about the colonel, and we'll elect him or run the tail offen the burro that's agin him. You hear me!" —Detroit Free Press.

EXPERIENCE DOESN'T COUNT.

Street railroading is one of the few things in which experience counts for very little, says an exchange. Some street railroad managers prefer new men, arguing that they can break them into their ways easier, while one at least refuses to hire a man who comes recommended from another road. Not long since a conductor from one of the older roads secured a position with this gentleman as a "green" and a few days afterward he was laid off. The manager had ridden on a crowded car and had seen at once from the way the new man handled the crowd that he had been broken in somewhere else. There may be something in the argument that a man from another road may introduce some tricks or dodges for beating the company out of fares, but however this may be, railroading is the only business under the sun in which long service and experience in a similar capacity under another employer is a detriment instead of a strong recommendation.

THEIR SCHEMES WORKED WELL

She Raised Her Voice. He Raised a Row, and Both Raised Some Money.

It was a demure looking little woman that walked into the ladies' cabin of a Pennsylvania ferry boat a few evenings ago and took a seat in the cabin that fast filled up. A respectable looking man who followed the woman took a seat beside her, and unfolding a newspaper, was to all appearances quickly engrossed in reading. The jingle bell had sounded and the ferry boat had just cleared the slip when the woman commenced singing in a rather melodious voice. The passengers ceased talking and papers and all eyes were centered on the demure little woman, who evidently intended making an appeal to the charitable.

The man who came into the cabin behind the woman dropped his paper also and eyed the singer sharply for an instant. She paid no attention to him, and at last, in a voice clearly heard by the passengers nearabout, the man asked the woman to stop singing, as she was disturbing the passengers and him in particular.

The request, or rather command, attracted the attention of those who heard it, and they looked upon the man with expressions of disgust. But the woman paid no heed to the insolent remark and continued with the little song. The man left his seat and went to the forward deck. He reappeared with a deck hand, who assisted the man in getting through the crowd and to where the little woman still sat singing. "I want you to make this woman stop her noise," said the man, now apparently aroused. "It's against the rules. She's evidently going to ask for alms." The woman had stopped singing and was now looking innocently at the man and the deck man.

From two or three passengers came the cry of "Shame!" but the man whose nerves were so shaken by the woman's voice, and who wanted the rules enforced, seemed to pay no attention to the remarks until the woman addressed him. "I'm sorry to have disturbed you, sir," she said rather loudly, "but I thought I might be able to gather a little money, which I need."

"Your singing did annoy me exceedingly, but if you are needy I'm sorry I stood in the way of your obtaining money, and I'll help you," he said, taking off his hat and dropping a dollar bill in it. Then he started around the passengers and one after another dropped silver pieces in the hat until a considerable fund had quickly grown. This the man transferred to the woman, and reseated himself and buried his face behind his paper.

The ferryboat had reached her destination, and the passengers left the boat. Five minutes later the man and woman stood on the corner of Liberty and Church streets.

"How much did we get?" the man asked.

"Nearly $5," she replied.

"Well, let's try the South Ferry now," he said, and off they walked together.—N. Y. Herald.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

The Rev. Ira Chase, Governor of Indiana, is said to be the most accomplished hand-shaker and baby-kisser who ever made a political canvass of the Hoosier state.

Gounod, the composer, is an eccentric individual and will only work at his own time and to order. It is said that he has 12 unfinished operas lying in his manuscript drawer.

Governor Fifer of Illinois is fond of a good cigar, but to prevent his liking for tobacco from getting the upper hand of him he abstains from the weed for one week in every four.

Senator Perkins, who succeeded Plumb, is particularly proud of the fact that he has never broken an engagement of any sort and has always been on time when keeping an appointment.

Senator Berry of Arkansas has only one leg, but you wouldn't think it if you saw him playing billiards and making the best men in Washington wink at the brilliancy of some of his shots.

Miss Kate Whistler, a sister of the artist, is a member of the profession of trained nurses. She has been in the naval nursing force at Plymouth, and leaves her appointment to be married.

To come to the point, it is hard to define just where sickness begins and health ends. Small things denote sometimes great disasters. A little sick headache; you did not sleep well last night; may be you are nervous, out of temper; you are a little dyspeptic; food does not set well. Remove the cause today. You can do it absolutely if you will take Johann Hoff's Malt Extract with your meals. You can get it at any drugstore, but you will have to be careful and not have imitations palmed off on you. All Baltimore & Ohio trains stop at Deer Park and Oakland during the season.

Rates, $60, $75 and $90 a month, according to location. Communications should be addressed to GEORGE D. DeSHIELDS, Manager Baltimore & Ohio Hotels, Cumberland, Md., up to June 10; after that date, either Deer Park or Oakland, Garrett County, Md.

PASTURE AT $2 A MONTH!

I will take horses to pasture on my farm at Bay Shore. They will be looked after twice a day, be regularly salted and cared for. The pasture is part tame and part wild. When the tame pasture is exhausted, as is invariably the case in the middle of the summer, the wild pasture is rich and luxuriant, keeping the stock in prime condition the whole season.

The pasture fronts on the bay, so that the stock can stand in the water, which is of material benefit to horses which have become sore from being driven on the pavements. For further information address

A WONDERFUL CASE.

The Husband Appears Before a Notary and Makes an Affidavit.

A Most Graphic Story Told by a Well Known Lady Which is Confirmed by Her Husband.

Much has been written of cases where people have been brought to life after having been to all appearances dead. Many more instances have occurred where persons have been at death's door, given up to die by those around them, but who by timely aid have been restored to life, health and loving friends. The majority of such cases have occurred in remote places and so have attracted but little attention save in the immediate locality.

A remarkable case of that kind has been brought to light here in New York—that of Mrs. M. A. Brensing, now living at No. 137 West 127th street, the facts of which have hitherto been known only to a small circle of friends and the physicians who attended her.

I called at the above number to obtain a full statement of the circumstances and was courteously received by Mr. Brensing. I explained to him the nature of my mission and was introduced to his wife.

Mrs. Brensing is the mother of 12 children, all of whom are living. She is a fine-looking, healthy woman of about 50 years of age, and certainly her appearance did not indicate that she had had such a wonderful experience.

"The circumstance you mention," she said, "occurred a few years ago. I was suddenly seized with an illness for which I could not account for up to that time—I had never had any indications of disease in any way. It was accompanied with the most unusual symptoms. My body was in constant pain, and very sensitive, so that I could not bear the contact of any but the lightest garment. I can scarcely tell of the agony I suffered during that time. The physicians who had been in attendance pronounced it to be acute Bright's disease, and after a time informed me that I could not possibly live. At that time it seemed to me that death would be a welcome relief from my sufferings.

"In a few days they told me that I was slowly dying, and my friends were called in to bid me farewell, each one thinking that it was for the last time. I was prepared to go, yet the desire to live—for and with my family—was strong within me. When a dear friend called to see me and told me of a remedy which she thought might have helped me had I but used it in time, I saw in her words a ray of hope.

"I was then almost in the embrace of death, in fact, I was dying, yet my husband sent for some of the medicine and gave me a small quantity at once. After taking a second dose a peaceful, restful feeling seemed to steal over me, and for the first time in several days I slept.

"The change in my condition, for I was improving, perplexed the doctors, for they did not know then of the medicine which had been given me. From that time my recovery was assured, and I grew gradually better until my health was fully restored.

"I thank God," continued Mrs. Brensing, fervently, "that my life was spared, and through the agency of Warner's Safe Cure. It cured me, and I know it will cure others. I feel it to be my duty to tell the whole world about it, for it may save other lives."

"The statement of my wife," said Mr. Brensing, "is the exact truth, and I am ready to swear to it."

I accompanied him to the office of a notary, where he made the following affidavit:

George P. H. McVay, Notary Public, No. 258 West 125th street, New York.

State of New York, city and county of New York.—George L. Brensing, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the husband of Mrs. M. A. Brensing, whose statement is attached hereto, and that said statement is true as therein set forth. (Signed).

GEORGE L. BRENSING.

Sworn to before me this 15th day of February, 1892. (Signed).

G. P. H. McVAY, Notary Public, New York county. (Seal).

Does any man or woman who reads the above doubt its absolute truth in every respect? Can the earnest gratitude which both husband and wife felt for the wonderful restoration to health be doubted for one moment? There are thousands of other ladies and men who need assistance as this lady did. The above is published in the hope that it may be the means of showing them the way.

THE PRESBYTERIANS

Are In General Assembly in Portland.

The One Hundred and Fourth Gathering.

Outline of the Work That Will Come Before the Body at This Important Meeting.

Portland, Ore., May 19.—The highest court of the Presbyterian church, known as the general assembly, convened here to-day, and will be in session for probably two weeks.

It is the 104th gathering of the body and the first that has taken place west of Omaha. It comes here in response to the invitation of the First church, and elaborate arrangements have been made by the citizens for the entertainment of the two thousand commissioners, officers and visitors. The First church was crowded to suffocation this morning, when the proceedings were opened with devotional exercises, including a sermon by the retiring moderator, Dr. William Henry Green, of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Among those who occupied the front pews were some of the ablest scholars of the Presbyterian church, including President Patton, of Princeton, Dr. Herrick Johnson, of McCormick, Dr. Morris, of Lane, Dr. Matthew B. Riddle, of Allegheny, Dr. Willis J. Beecher, of Auburn, Dr. William Alexander, of San Francisco, Dr. W. C. Roberts, of Lake Forest, Dr. William E. Moore, of Columbus, Ohio, Dr. Booth, of New York, Dr. Nicolls, of St. Louis, Dr. Van Dyke, of Brooklyn, and Hon. Elliot F. Shepard, of New York.

After the devotional exercises a recess was taken until this afternoon, when a new moderator will be chosen and the work of the assembly will begin. One of the most important questions to be discussed is the report of the committee on revision, of which Dr. W. C. Roberts, president of Lake Forest university, is chairman.

This report, which has already been published, is not altogether satisfactory. Many of those who opposed revision at the outset think that the committee has gone too far, while those who are extreme revisionists insist that the result is altogether too conservative, and that the changes made are not at all satisfactory.

The committee, on the other hand, says that its report will satisfy all except a few extreme conservatives, and a few radicals, who will be equally unable to agree upon a new creed. Of almost greater popular interest is the Briggs case.

This will come before the committee in two ways. Last year at the Detroit assembly his transfer from one chair to another in Union seminary was disapproved by a vote of 44 to 60. Notwithstanding this the seminary directors, at a meeting held shortly afterwards reaffirmed the transfer and decided to stand by him.

The last assembly also appointed a committee, headed by President Patton of Princeton to consult with the directors relative to the relations existing between the seminary and the assembly.

This committee has prepared a report for presentation. Still another phase of the Briggs case will be the appeal from the prosecuting committee of the New York presbytery which dismissed the heresy trial begun there last summer. After the committee made its report stating the charges and specifications the presbytery dismissed the case, and against this action an appeal is brought.

The questions to be determined are: Did the New York presbytery do right or wrong in dismissing the case without trial; if right, does it end the case; if wrong, what will the next move be? Is the assembly to allow its deliverance of last year to be practically overruled.

The probabilities are that the answer will be in the negative, for the doctrinal complexion of the commissioners that have been elected by the New York, Philadelphia and other presbyteries indicates that Dr. Briggs is doomed to defeat and dismissal.

The case of the New York Union seminary is also an important one. This institution ignored the vote of the Detroit assembly regarding the election of Dr. Briggs. The future relations of the seminary to the general assembly must be decided in view of the evident determination of the institution to continue to teach what the assembly has virtually condemned.

WHERE PARROTS COME FROM.

What They Cost and How They Are Trained.

On a Sixth avenue elevated train the other evening was a short, thin man, tanned evidently by exposure in the tropics. He carried, covered with a plaid gingham apron, a curious old fashioned cage in which there was a young green parrot. "This parrot," he said, "is a young bird, and, as you see, well trained. There are two ways of getting these birds—by trapping and by catching the young birds in the nest. A trapped bird is wild and it takes two years to train it, for it bites and fights like a 'soger.' This young one was trained in twelve months. Every six weeks I go to Venezuela on a sailing vessel and try to bring back fifty parrots with me. The Indians catch them up the Orinoco river, and whenever a vessel comes into port there is a lively scramble on the part of the natives who have parrots or anything else to dispose of. The training of parrots is a regular business for many of the natives in the seaport towns of Venezuela, and whenever I have touched at the ports of Brazil or Colombia I found it much the same, except that Brazilian parrots are harder to get along the coast. Indians do nearly all of the trapping far up in the interior. This parrot is for a friend of mine in Forty-ninth street, to whom I have promised one for two years, but never could pick up a really fine one.

"When I am in port I have so little time that I have to take such birds as are offered. If I were going to sell this one I should ask $10, although my regular price for a young bird is $5. That is what the bird fanciers pay me for them, and they cost me $4; this is what I paid for this one six weeks ago at Laguayra. He speaks Spanish, of course, and swears like a trooper in a dialect of Indian and Spanish; his last owners in the city of Laguayra have taught him all of the latest slang they knew. Yes," he continued, "$1 is all I make on one of these parrots, while on a trapped bird there is only about 50 cents to be made. I buy them for $2 and $2.50, and sell them for 50 cents advance. They get awful seasick on even an ordinary voyage, and require as much attention as a sick baby, and many of them get so lonesome when they are shut up alone in the hold that they die of a broken heart it seems to me. "Oh, how easy they die," reflectively sighed the man. "On one trip I was bringing up seventy fine parrots, and when we were only three days out they began to take sick and die. The ship's doctor said it was a kind of infectious pneumonia. At any rate they all died but two. That was a bad voyage for me."—New York Tribune.

INCENDIARY BURGLARS AT LIMA

Lima, O., May 19.—The residence of Thomas Lawson was discovered on fire at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The fire was controlled without any great loss, but upon investigation it was found that burglars had entered the rear portion of the house and carried off several articles from the kitchen. The thieves no doubt set fire to the house. Miss Laura Lawson, a girl of 17 years, was sleeping upstairs and was nearly suffocated by smoke and considerably injured by jumping to the ground, a distance of 15 feet.

SHE PLEADED GUILTY.

Zanesville, O., May 19.—Mrs. James Weaver, who soundly thrashed Mrs. Alta Stine for insulting her at Rossville, yesterday, was arrested on the charge of assault and battery. She pleaded guilty and was fined $2 and costs.

RIO GRANDE EARNINGS.

Denver, Col., May 19.—Rio Grande railway earnings for the second week of May are $158,300; increase, $15,400 over same week last week.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

A Prisoner Pardoned Who Had Been Wrongfully Accused.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 19.—Gov. Francis has granted a pardon to Samuel A. Sanders, of Ozark county, who was convicted of a felonous assault last April an sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years. This sentence was afterwards affiremed by the supreme court. A petition was presented to the governor, signed by 440 citizens of Ozark county, asking for clemency on the grounds that Sanders was wrongfully convicted as a result of mistaken identity. This side of the case was presented so strong that the governor granted the pardon. Sanders is a poor man, about 40 years old, and the father of seven children. Heretofore his reputation was always good.

FOSTORIA RACES.

Fostoria, May 19.—(Special)—Fostoria will have her usual June races on the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th of that month. The four days' purses will amount to $3,600.

GOSSIP FROM BRYAN.

The Burchell Trial to be Postponed.

No Oats or Corn Yet in the Ground—Interesting General Mention.

Bryan, O., May 19.—(Special)—Bryan lodge, K. of P., were busy yesterday evening and last night conferring the third degree upon a number of members and transacting other important business. The lodge here is in the best of order.

N. Vineyard, a Bryan resident, has been secured to superintend the building of the Bryan Fair Co.'s track.

Sunday occurred the marriage of Mr. M. M. Patterson and Miss Cora Mason, two of Bryan's estimable young people.

Mrs. F. A. Tubbs, of Bloomfield, Iowa, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Mason.

Dr. L. A. Badger was up from Painesville this week.

W. H. Stackhouse was up from Toledo this week.

Mayor Jno. W. Nelson has gone to the Pacific coast on a six weeks' tour. During his absence his chair will be filled by Justice Clark.

Attorneys Scott and Schrider have entered suit for $10,000 damages against the Lake Shore company for causing the death, by burning, of 14-year old Mary Smith, of Stryker, last March.

The case of the state of Ohio v. George and Michael Burchell, who are charged with causing the death of Arthur Brown on May 4, will undoubtedly be carried over until the November term of court.

Not one kernel of corn has been placed in the ground by the farmers of this section, and in many instances little or no oats have been sown, and what is sown is said to have rotted on account of the continued wet weather. Indications art quite flattering, however, for a large crop of all kinds of fruits.

The village council have advertised the sale of bonds to build the water works in Bryan.

Memorial Sunday will be observed in Bryan on May 29. Addresses will be delivered by able speakers and accompanied by appropriate exercises in the armory in the afternoon. Memorial day exercises will be held on Monday.

Williams county common pleas court convenes June 7.

A HAND-MADE FIFTY.

It Passes Through Several New York Banks—Caught at the Subtreasury.

New York, May 19.—A particularly bad counterfeit was detected at the subtreasury to-day. It is the production of a pen and ink artist, who did his work so well that the bill passed through one of the city banks without any suspicion arising as to its genuineness. At the subtreasury its character was at once discovered. The counterfeit is of a $50 greenback. The operator first photographed a genuine bill, getting a light picture, but sufficiently distinct to aid him in subsequent proceedings. Then he went over the photograph with ink, turning out a marvellously fine piece of work. The coloring is excellent, the design clearly reproduced, and the lettering far more accurate than is usually the case. The paper is good and has almost the right "feel." One or two details were neglected, but they were not of a kind to attracts attention. "Act of March 3, 1863," appearing over the vignette of Franklin on the genuine bill was omitted on the counterfeit. "Engraved and printed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing" is also missing. Considering the time and care necessary to turn out the bill, it is doubtful if the counterfeiter profited greatly by his labors. Several years ago this same artist turned out some fifties of earlier issues than that of 1880, but most of his work has been done with twenties. The new bill is the cleverest example of his skill ever run across at the subtreasury. The counterfeit was inspected by a number of bankers to-day and received the respectful consideration it deserved.

HE WANTS ANOTHER CHANCE

Frank Van Loon Writes to the Governor.

He Pleads in His Usual Wild Manner for Another Trial at His Home.

Columbus, O., May 19.—Frank Van Loon, the Columbus Grove murderer awaiting execution in the penitentiary annex, addressed a letter to Gov. McKinley which he intended to send out by his wife, but it fell into the hands of the prison officials and it will never reach its destination. A correspondent, learning that such a letter was in existence, called at the prison and was permitted to read it. Six sheets of note paper were filled by this rambling, incoherent and illiterate communication, and sent as a plea for another chance to prove his innocence. A brief extract of the original letter is as follows:

"Dear Governor: I am confined here for a crime that I never committed. It was not a question of identification that sent me here, but the perjured testimony of my enemies on the witness stand. I would like one more chance to prove my innocence for the sake of my wife and infant child. My wife is weeping herself to death and her blood is being frozen to icicles. Now, dear Governor, please give me one chance. Let me be taken back home, and like dear Jesus Christ, let them put me on a cross. I will hold the nails and anyone who believes me guilty can drive them through my hands and feet."

The letter was signed by the murderer's full name, Frank Augustus Van Loon. Warden James refused to let the communication go out of his hands, and Gov. McKinley will never behold its full contents.

Another Negro Left Swinging to a Tree.

Jim Taylor, Who Made an Assault on Eleven-Year-Old Nellie Silcox, is Now Dead.

Chestertown, Md., May 18.—The negro ravisher Jim Taylor, who on Sunday brutally assaulted little 11-year-old Nellie Silcox, daughter of Farmer John Silcox, near Kennedyville, this county, was taken from the jail last night by a crowd of nearly 100 citizens and hanged.

The crowd began gathering last night. About 9:30 they broke down the door and entered. There were no shots fired but the sheriff pleaded with the crowd to desist. Taylor calmly stood at his cell door awaiting his fate when the intruders reached that point.

The lock on the cell was quickly smashed and a rope was noosed around Taylor's neck.

He was dragged out and upon reaching the first tree the rope was thrown over a limb and the negro pulled up.

The ominous click of fire arms was heard, but those in the front rank yelled not to shoot, fearing some of them would be killed. The body was left hanging to the tree for two hours.

Just before being swung up Taylor denied his guilt. An inquest was held today and brought in a verdict that the man came to his death by persons unknown.

The little victim, Nellie Silcox, is better to-day, but is still in a critical condition.

WIRE TAPPERS CAUGHT.

Theodore Diffendorf Placed in Jail.

A Long Chase After a Man Who Made $30,000 on a Sure Thing Bet.

New York, May 18.—Theodore Diffendorf, of Utica, who was arrested Monday as he was on his way to Gravesend to witness the Brooklyn handicap, on a charge of swindling Saratoga bookmakers out of $23,000, was committed this morning to await the arrival of the Saratoga authorities.

Diffendorf was formerly a Western Union telegraph operator. In the summer of 1890 he went to Saratoga, leased a barn and lived near by. He fell in with a man named John Harris and together they tapped the race track wires, and by getting advance information were able to make sure bets with the city pool rooms.

Before the scheme was discovered the men had cleared between $20,000 and $30,000.

Ever since, the police have been looking for the men. Harris was arrested in Troy, and through information received from him Diffendorf was located.

NO HOPE FOR DEEMING.

The Earl of Hopetown Refuses to Interfere.

On Monday Next Jack the Ripper Will Pay the Penalty of His Crimes.

Milbourne, May 18.—The Earl of Hopetown, governor of Victoria, has refused to postpone the execution of the murderer, Frederick B. Deeming, which is set down for Monday next.

The news has not yet been communicated to Deeming, who had entertained hope that his appeal for respite on the ground of not being responsible for his actions would be successful.

THE STRIKE SITUATION.

Every Evidence That the Battle Will Be Fierce.

New York, May 18.—From the statements of the striking pavers and rammers, the probabilities are that the present strike among the Granite Cutters' association will last longer than was at first supposed.

No more strikes were ordered yesterday but it was not because the men were not ready, but because the strike committee of the board of walking delegates had not finished its work.

As soon as a full report is made out strikes will be ordered on all buildings where association stone is used.

The committee has a full list of the buildings on which association stone is being used. This will be made public. The men employed on the buildings in question will be ordered to strike. It is stated that this will increase the number of men idle in this city as the result of the granite cutters' lockout to be between 10,000 and 12,000.

It is also asserted that the strike will spread rapidly in other cities as soon as it is seen what the men in New York are doing.

Word has been received that strikes have already been declared in Chicago and Philadelphia. There is also trouble reported from Buffalo, where the men are said to be growing disconted. It is said that they contemplate going on a strike out of sympathy.

The men on strike here, however, hope that it will not take place, for they say such a strike in Buffalo could not help their cause any. The condition of affairs in New England is unchanged.

LARGE SIZED ETHIOPIAN

Reported to be Lodged in the Woodpile.

The Markets are Hard to Understand.

Another Day of Fluctuations—All the Trading Pits of the World Recorded by Wire.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 71,057 bus., and at five other western points 108,410 bus. The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were 179,257 bus. and flour to an aggregate of 350,000 bus.; export of corn 159,357 bus. and of oats 67,337 bus.

The Markets To-day.

Continued rain west and northwest excited great solicitude in the minds of the short selling persuasion, and they made a combined and very vigorous attack on the wheat markets and carried prices up 2c bus. No regard is now paid to foreign markets, and neither do foreign markets reflect our fluctuations based on our home weather influences. It is an anomalous condition of markets all around. Here is Toledo cash and May wheat about 2c above New York, and about 10c above Chicago, and about 10c above Duluth, and on that basis we find a market for our receipts which average near 20,000 bus. per day. The seaboard dealers want it, as well as millers.

Here is another and an extraordinary feature of the trade. Day after day Beerbohm reports sick and declining wheat markets, and day after day England is a large buyer on this side. There may be and Ethiopian in the woodpile, in this business. A Chicago correspondent is led to exclaim that "there are no flies discoverable on the English wheat dealer."

It has been a day of fluctuations. As soon as the most pressing wants of the shorts was supplied, the price of wheat broke off 1c to 1 1-8c, and then, on further reports of rain in the northwest, there was a return of firmness.

Corn has been very strong all day. Of course this will continue so long as the weather persistently prevents plowing and planting. Very large areas lie as they did after the last crop was cut off. An immense acreage of bottom land is yet under water. It may be safe to say that except the bottom lands, with a change in the weather, the planting may be completed by June 1, but the latter is too uncertain for an estimate.

There is nothing favorable in the closing of foreign markets.

In New York May wheat closed 1 1-4c and July 1 1-8c higher. May corn 5-8c and July 3-4c higher. May oats 1-2c higher.

In Chicago May wheat closed 1 3-8c and July 1 1-2c, May corn 3c, July 1 1-4c and May oats 7-8c, all higher.

In Toledo there has been some improvement in business, and although yet dull as indicated by aggregate trading, there has been more life and confidence in the deal. July was the favorite future, but May, June and August received more attention than of late. On the call May wheat sold at 92c. After the call May sold at 93c, declined to 91 3-4c and closed at 92c, sellers steady. June sold at 89 1-2c and closed at 89 3-8c, a gain of 7-8c. July sold at 84 3-4c to 85c and closed at 85 1-2c, a gain of 1c. August sold at 84c to 85c and closed at 84 3-8c, a gain of 1c.

Cash wheat was in light request. No. 2 soft sold at 92c to 93c and to 91 3-4c, closing at 92c, sellers. No. 3 soft sold at 89c.

Corn—On the call July sold at 46 1-4c. After the call May sold at 49 1-2c to 49 3-4c and July at 46 1-2c; No. 3 at 46 1-2c; No. 4 at 44 1-2c; No. 2 yellow at 51c.

Flaxseed in Chicago sold at $1 07 cash and $1 05 1-2 for May.

DIVIDED THE HONORS.

A Bitter Contest in Virginia.

Hilland Cleveland Men Meet in Convention in Almost Equal Numbers.

Richmond, Va., May 19.—The democratic state convention met at noon with an interest attaching to the outcome unprecedented in the history of democratic politics in Virginia.

It consists of 1,657 delegates, a larger number than were ever before gathered in any convention in the United States. The fight is being made entirely on Cleveland and anti-Cleveland lines.

The Cleveland men claim 850 delegates and the antis, who are almost unanimously Hill men, claim as many.

In the preliminary skirmish before the state central committee the anti-Cleveland men won, John F. Ryan, of Loudon county, chosen for temporary chairman, being an opponent of the ex-president. The first real fight will come in the selection of permanent chairman. The Cleveland side will nominate ex-Speaker Marshall Langer, of Augusta, and the Hill candidate will be either Henry R. Pollard, of this city, or Judge W. R. Staples.

Both factions held meetings last night, and each faction nominated four delegates at large. After this had been done the leaders found the antagonism between the factions so bitter as to jeopardize the success of the party unless allayed, and at midnight a conference began, looking to a compromise, by which the delegates at large will be ex-Gov. Lee and John Goode, representing the Cleveland faction, and Senator Daniel and Gen. Payne, the Hill faction. Nothing was accomplished, however. It is generally considered that there will be no instructions. Cleveland's administration will be indorsed, but there will be no specific mention of Hill or any other democrat as a presidential candidate. On silver the platform will reiterate former expressions without indulging in any radical language.

Mrs. and Mrs. Claflin and family have removed from Grand avenue to 1027 West Woodruff avenue.

Mrs. Charlotte Nichols, of Tecumseh, and Rob Hicks, of Ypsilanti, attended the McIntosh-Eley wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Tyler are in Napoleon where they were called by the death of Mrs. Tyler's sister, Mrs. H. C. Vortriede.

The Eurydice club met Tuesday evening with Miss Grace Pratt, of Huron street. Cornelius Colton and Olive Parmalee were the soloists.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Washington Street Congregational church gave a pleasant social last evening. The occasion was a pleasant one.

Miss Kate Charlotte McIntosh and Mr. Harry Burnett Eley were united in marriage last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Justice and Mrs. James Austin, jr., 727 Oakwood avenue. Rev. J. A. P. McGaw tied the nuptial knot. Mr. Fred Reid acted as best man and Miss Anna McIntosh was maid of honor. The wedding was a very pretty and quiet one, only the relatives and immediate friends being present. A dainty wedding supper was served during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Eley will begin housekeeping immediately in their pretty new home on Indiana avenue. Congratulations and best wishes are extended to them from a host of friends.

A very pretty wedding occurred at St. Patrick's church yesterday, when Miss Margaret Degnan, of this city, and Mr. Jno. Burns, of Napoleon, O., were united in marriage by Rev. Father Hannin. After the ceremony the young people repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 66 Germania street, and with the relatives and a few friends enjoyed a social day. In the evening a large reception was given. Tony Leon's orchestra furnished sweet music, and dancing was indulged in until an early hour this morning. The young couple are well known in this city, and are very popular in their circle of acquaintances, who wish for them much happiness.

STOPPING THE LEAK.

No Successor Will be Chosen to James R. Young.

Washington, May 19.—The republican members of the senate held a caucus this morning in reference to the office of principal executive clerk, left vacant by the removal of Mr. James R. Young, and reached the conclusion that there was no necessity for filling the office.

There was some discussion concerning the appointment of a new executive clerk, but an almost general opinion prevailed that other officers of the senate could perform the work heretofore vested in Mr. Young without conflicting with their other duties.

It was decided to place executive session matters in charge of the secretary of the senate, making him responsible for the disposition of his force, and the custom of the house in giving its clerk practical control of apointments of subordinates was also adopted with respect to the secretary of the senate.

Heretofore appointments to the principal clerical offices of the senate have been vested in the senate itself, but under the new order, the secretary will have the power of appointment.

ADRIAN'S BOOM.

The Capital of Lenawee County, Michigan,

Forging to the Front---A Big Time Yesterday.

Several Hundred Lots Disposed Of—A Genuine Sale of Desirable Property.

Adrian, Mich., May 19.—(Special)—Yesterday was the date of a great event in Adrian, the capital of one of the richest counties in the richest agricultural portion of Michigan—the grand sale of lots which has been advertised in the Bee for several days past. The Maple City is especially beautiful at this season, dressed in the fresh green and fragrant bloom of the springume. The principal streets were profusely and tastefully decorated with bunting, and some very artistic work was shown in the windows of leading business houses. Stores were closed, traffic was suspended and everybody turned out to help swell the holiday crowd.

In spite of bad roads and bad weather the farmers' teams (the farmers of Lenawee county drive good horses) came in with loads of men, women and children, anxious to be in early season to select good points from which to view the parade, and surrounding towns sent their quotas in special excursion trains.

It was a fine procession, in which was represented the arts, trades, manufactories, wholesale and retail business of the city. While the various floats represented the firms in an advertising way, tasteful and artistic finish in detail was noticeable. For instance, a furniture float was handsomely canopied in pagoda shape with sunlight yellow, beneath which was arranged a sumptuously carpeted and furnished room that looked comfortable enough to live in; the driver was in white uniform and the whole outfit was very attractive. Hardware and other firms made exceedingly handsome displays.

The Adrian Times' wagon, with carryall top, was covered, wound and festooned with red, white and blue, bound here and there with black letters on white ground: "Adrian Times." From this wagon was tossed out dodgers for the job room in regular snowy showers. The popularity of the bright and enterprising journal was shown by the cheers it received from the crowd that lined the streets, pretty well from the heart of the city the long way to the "new fair ground." The fire department made a fine showing as did the military companies and civil societies; Adrian bands, several in number, old and young, with a Tecumseh band (and military company) furnished excellent music, and later, some fine exhibitions of drill by the companies were given. The early morning rain held off pretty well, through the middle of the day, and barring heavy roads, the weather was quite right for the parade.

Arrived at the grounds, after the band and military display, the work of the day—the selling of lots—was begun.

A word about the Land Improvement company. It is made up of the leading and moneyed men of the city. They purchased four subdivisions of land situated in different portions of the city. This has been platted into lots, sold at $150 each; the down payment to be $10, and $10 a month to be paid thereafter. At the end of the fourth month a drawing is arranged to take place which will locate the lot bought. Then the purchaser can view his purchase and go on paying or discontinue as he chooses.

In the parcel is a property with a number of acres, buildings, and an orchard. A lucky man will be he who gets it for $150. The money thus raised will be expended to bring manufactories to the city. A number of these are so well assured that contracts are already let for the buildings. A Farming-tool factory from Wapakoneta, O., is put down tenth on the list.

Lots were taken at a lively rate when the sale began. Detroit and many other Michigan towns sent buyers, as did Cleveland, Fayette, Sandusky, and other places in Ohio. This shows confidence in the investment. Twelve hundred lots were put on the list, and about 700, all told, were sold up to the close yesterday. As the rain began to pour again the crowd adjourned to the opera house.

This plan of helping a town to help itself originated in Muskegon, and was signally successful there as later in Saginaw, though in the last mentioned, as a private speculation. The crowd of "boomers" was variously estimated all the way from five to ten thousand. The size of a scattered out-door crowd is difficult to determine. It was a grand gala time, well-managed and full of enthusiasm and full of significance as well, for substantial advancement of the city's interests.

The Times, an evening paper, showed commendable enterprise in getting out a handsome eight-page morning edition which contained a brief sketch of the city's history and of its already thriving industries. Mention should be made of the woven-wire fence manufacture, which is pre-eminently an Adrian industry. Its large number of employes in blue and white uniforms were in the parade. Two large beeves, from Armour's, roasted to a turn by Armour's Toledo agent, furnished luncheon for the crowds.

A goodly number of Toledo people went over on the morning trains.

The names of the projectors and pushers of the improvement plan have been already published in the Bee. It was a big success and a handsome advertisement for the enterprising little city, which has natural advantages, location, transportation, etc., to warrant its claim, and is sure to bring big returns.

JEALOUS TYPEWRITERS.

Not the Fluffy-Banged Girls Who Run Them,

But the Sympathetic Machines Themselves, Which are Very Sensitive to the Touch.

Stories innumerable have been told relative to the engineer and the sympathy existing between himself and his locomotive. Veracious writers have reveled in singular tales in which the engineer's superstitious mind and the locomotive's almost animal instinct have been the chief and bewildering features.

But the remarks of a girl typewriter the other day open an almost limitless field of thought and discussion, and discovers a new subject for the dissertation of psychological students, says the New York Press.

"My typewriter is intelligent," said this human typewriter, referring to her mechanical friend.

"That is, I understand it, and it understands me. I wouldn't lend it to any one. It's a sensitive little thing, and its resentment at being loaned out would soon be manifested to me when I again attempted to use it. Skillful typewriters are extremely jealous in the care of their instruments.

"I have several dear friends engaged in the same business, yet no one could obtain the use of my typewriter, and I am confident they could not be induced to lend me theirs."

Investigation shows these statements to be correct. Those who have their own machines never lend them, even for temporary use, while in large offices where the firms furnish the instruments, each of the latter has a certain operator, and no one else is allowed to its use.

Fanciful as the idea is this same prosaic writing machine should resemble the violin in its readiness to respond to familiar hands, and its constant rebellion at being used by strangers, there is no doubt in the minds of the typewriters as to its being a solemn and important fact.

"Whatever the reason," said the superintendent of an establishment where typewriters are sold, "a machine that has been constantly used by a certain person is ruined for that person by some one else's use of it.

"This refers to expert typewriters—those who do much work, and whose constant practice has developed a remarkable rate of speed. So pronounced has this opinion become, and so luxuriantly has the idea flourished that typewriters are usually furnished in cabinets that can be locked and are then secure from molestation.

"I know of no explanation for this queer state of affairs. Machines are made by the dozen; the pieces that form the machines are made by the hundred, yet each complete mechanical typewriter has what is known as a distinct 'touch.'

"An operator may try several machines before she finds one to her liking, and when she does no other will she use. An experiment was once made for the purpose of testing this.

"An operator of a particularly sensitive and nervous temperament and who was particularly annoying in her complaints regarding the use of her typewriter by others, was blindfolded and tried in rapid succession 50 different machines of the same make. To everyone's surprise she selected the one she had been in the habit of using."

Few people know the amount of manual labor involved in a day's typewriting or realize the distance the hands travel in a day's work. Probably few of the typewriters themselves appreciate it. Yet their hands cover a distance they would never think of covering with their legs unless necessity compelled it.

The highest rate of speed ever attained is 200 words a minute. This is supposed to be the result of the most rapid movements the human hands are capable of. The person making this record maintained this speed for only four consecutive minutes and has never been able to exceed that limit. Assuming the words average six letters apiece, 1,200 letters a minute are written.

It is estimated that to make each letter the fingers are raised a height of two inches from the keyboard. Two inches added (from the descending movement) makes the fingers travel four inches before each letter is struck. So this expert's hand, in writing these 200 words, traveled 4,800 inches, or 400 feet during the minute in which she wrote 200 words.

But this is unusual, of course. Very rapid writing is a speed of 75 words a minute, and this rate is too fast for comfort. Practical work is 10 pages of legal paper an hour. Each page contains 300 words. Six hours' steady writing can be regarded as an entire day's work.

This is a speed of 50 words a minute, and the practical worker writes during the day 60 pages—18,000 words, or 108,000 letters. If her fingers travel four inches to make each letter, during the day it travels 432,000 inches. This provides for the perpendicular movement only, and it is fair to increase this distance by one-third to estimate the distance the hands travel over the keyboard in a horizontal direction. The total sum in inches is 576,000. This is equivalent to 48,000 feet, or a little over nine miles a day. In a week the hands can cover 54 miles, and in a year's steady application to business over 2,800 miles.

So the vagary of the male and female typewriters can in a large measure be excused and their preference for their respective machines accounted for.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Cleveland Bidding for the Next Session.

More Resolutions Dumped Into the Mill.

Bright Sunshine Has Had the Effect of Largely Increasing the Attendance and Interest.

Omaha, Neb., May 19.—Bishop Merrill presided over to-day's session of the conference. As a presiding officer the bishop has no peer and as a result business moved along smoothly.

The bad weather has disappeared and with the sunshine came large crowds with the result that the galleries were packed before the opening hymn had finished.

H. B. Willis, of Iowa, offered a resolution asking that the hymnals be abridged to 400 hymns bound in substantial covers and sold to the poorer churches for 50 cents per copy.

The Central German conference asked that the presiding elders of an annual conference

BAPTIST CONGRESS.

A Grand Gathering in the City of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 19.—The tenth annual congress of the Baptist churches of the United States opened in the First Baptist church to-day with over two thousand delegates in attendance. This is the chief feature of the annual Baptist anniversaries, and it has brought to this city over five thousand members of the denomination from all parts of the country, including all the shining lights of the faith.

Devotional exercises were held this morning. This afternoon the first session opened with a discussion of the question, "The Christian Year, How Far is Its Recognition Advisable." The speakers included Prof. H. G. Weston, Rev. Dr. Stokely of Washington, Rev. W. H. P. Faunce of New York, and Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur.

MILLIONS OF MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Akron, O., May 19.—John Bowen, aged 40, was crushed to death under an 800-pound casting which he was engaged in hoisting at Webster, Camp & Lane's shops. He leaves a wife and four children.

CUT A TERRIBLE GASH.

Oberlin, May 19.—Pat Sheffers, an employe of the Cleveland Stone company, was arrested for assault and battery on Kale Malonson. Sheffers cut a terrible gash in Malonson's head under his left temple.

Ohio Central Lines for Charleston

Superstitions die hard in India. Delhi has been in a great state of agitation owing to a rumor that the government was trying to kidnap seven boys to sacrifice to the water deity on the site of a new reservoir.

The seashore and mountains of New England have long been a source of inspiration to our noblest poets, and indeed they are a most high and worthy theme. When your mind reverts to this old and dear section of our country and the longing comes upon you to wander in the footsteps of Longfellow, of Whittier, or of Lowell, it will be well to remember that the Boston & Albany is the only first-class through line between the west and New England. Always see that your tickets read via the B. & A.

Often Very Desirable

It is often very desirable in making a gift to select something which cannot possibly be duplicated in this country. Such are many of the articles which we have purchased abroad, and which are not only unique, but very beautiful in themselves.

MOST REMARKABLE RELATIVE.

A certain well-known society woman caused somewat of a sensation recently by declaring that she believed herself possessed of the most remarkable relative on record. The group of women, who had been detailing the laughable eccentricities of persons of their acquaintance paused in their recital, completely dumbfounded when the statement was made that the relative in question had no legs and never went to bed. Noting with keen delight the astonishment depicted on the faces of her hearers, the speaker quietly remarked: "She has no legs and never goes to bed, for the reason that she has 'limbs' and 'retires.'"—Colorado Sun.

ABOUT ALLIGATORS.

A Dreadful Monster in South America Which May Be Tamed.

Until a short time ago there lived in New York, says the Tribune of that city, a physician who had spent many years in South America, and who was well informed in natural history. His great delight was to tell stories about animals. Some of them are given here.

"While exceedingly rich in vegetation, South America is poor in the higher forms of animal life," he said. "But although the higher animals are scarce, birds and insects are numerous, and the reptiles especially, are large and plentiful. Of the reptiles, the alligator is one of the most d'sliked. That terrible creature feeds on fish, carrion and animals which it is successful enough to surprise as they come to drink at the water's edge. Man, also, frequently falls a victim, and for that reason the natives of places where the alligator is common have devised various methods for killing it. There was a pond near where I was once staying, where the wild cattle went in herds to drink, and there hunters used to lay in wait for them. One day one of the hunters going into the water came across an alligator, which seized him by the knee. He began to call for help, but his comrades, instead of coming to his rescue, ran away, thinking he had fallen into the hands of the hostile natives. The alligator had not a good hold of his knee, but would not let go while the man struggled. The hunter had presence of mind enough, however, to become still, and pretend that he was dead, whereupon the alligator loosenned his hold to take a new and more secure one. When it did so the man pulled away his knee and interposed his gun, which the creature at once seized so savagely and firmly that it was jerked out of the man's hands.

"At another time a small Indian village in which I was staying was periodically terrorized by one of its inhabitants being carried off by a large alligator. The natives became worked up to such a pitch of excitement that it was resolved to kill the terrible visitor at any cost. Accordingly, two powerful men were chosen to watch for it and destroy it. One night they saw a monster alligator rise out of the river and climb on a rock to rest. Forgetting all about danger, they waded in the river until they were only a short distance away from it, when they took true aim and thrust two harpoons into its body. After a struggle they killed that terror of the village. From the tip of his nose to the end of his tail he measured 15 feet, being one of the largest ever slain. The two men who killed him were, of course, the heroes of the hour.

"The natives in some parts of South America are bold and reckless enough to give them some chance of fighting the alligator in the water. They dive under it, and plunge a long dagger into its belly, and after a few struggles the hated monster turns over on its back and dies.

"Although the alligator is truly a monster, it can, by gentle treatment, be made tame. In one of the South American villages a man caught a young alligator, and in time it became so tame that it would follow him around like a dag, and even scramble up stairs after him. It was a very affectionate creature. Its great favorite was a cat of the house, and the cat seemed to like it in return. If it saw the cat asleep it would lie down beside it, and place its head upon the cat and go to sleep, too. That cat and alligator were nearly always together, and whenever one was absent the other seemed restless. But that alligator also had its dislikes. It seemed especially to hate a small dog of the house, and every time it got a chance would beat the dog unmercifully with its tail, never thinking of attacking it with its mouth. For a long time the pet alligator was kept alive by being fed on raw meat and milk. One day, however, the cat died, and not long after this the alligator died, too. The people of the house felt sure that it died from a broken heart because the cat was gone."

HOW THE NAVAJO HUNTS.

He Uses a Mirror to Tempt the Fat Prairie Dog from His Home.

Living almost wholly upon game as they do, the Navajos cannot be prevailed upon to taste either fish or rabbit. I have known some very ludicrous things to happen when meanly mischievous Americans deluded Navajos into eating either of these forbidden dishes; and sometimes there have been very serious retaliations for the ill-mannered joke. Rabbits are wonderfully numerous in the Navajo country, being molested only by feathered and four-footed enemies; but the Indian who would fight to the death sooner than touch a delicious rabbit stew is greedily fond of the fat and querulous prairie dog.

That whole region abounds in "dog-towns," and they are frequently besieged by their swarthy foes. A Navajo will stick a bit of mirror in the entrance of a burrow and lie behind the little mound all day, if need be, to secure the coveted prize. When Mr. Tusa ventures from his bedroom, deep underground, he sees a familiar image mocking him at the front door; and when he hurries out to confront this impudent intruder, whiz! goes a chalcedony-tipped arrow through him, pinning him to the ground so that he cannot tumble back into his home, as he has a wonderful faculty of doing even in death or a dark hand darts from behind like lightning, seizes his chunky neck safely beyond the reach of his chisel-shaped teeth, and breaks his spine with one swift snap. —St. Nicholas.
